Women Pickets Arrested

Some Jailed In Hancock County Road Dispute

Ten Lawrenceville area women were arrested this morning and charged with obstructing traffic in a dispute over safe road conditions.

The women, who Tuesday stopped school buses from completing their runs were taken into custody by Hancock County sheriff's deputies after officers reported spending an hour and a half trying to talk the women out of picketing.

Finally, the 10 were escorted from the highway and taken in three cruisers to New Cumberland, where they were charged before Squire John D. Herron.

HERRON SET bonds of $17 each and set hearings for 10 a.m. Friday.

Four women were to post bonds, but six others were taken to the jail, where they remained late this morning.

The dispute centers around a controversy over road conditions in Hancock.

The women, patterning themselves after a group from Newell who picketed this summer for repair of the 900 block of Grant St., yesterday blocked the Lawrenceville road with boxes and refused to let school buses pass. They claim that road and the Johnsonville Rd., especially where it intersects with Route 30 at Taylor's Bend, are too hazardous for school buses and want the West Virginia Road Commission to make corrections.

The women were effective in keeping about 90 students away from classes yesterday, even though some were taken to school in private vehicles and others walked.

Arrested this morning were: Bee Nonamaker, 41, of Lawrenceville; Caroline Micheals, 43, of Chester RD 1; Viola Mae Welch, 40, of Chester RD 1; Helen Josephine Blasinsky, 34, of Tyrone Rd.; Adeline D. Morris, 31, of Chester RD 1; Violet P. White, 47, of Chester RD 1; Norma Jean Goodlin, 32, of Chester RD; Kay McDole, 30, of Tyrone Rd.; Shirley Gallop, 32, of Chester RD 1, and Gloria L. VanDyke, 36, of Lawrenceville.

WHEN HERRON gave the women until 5 p. m. to obtain funds for their release, Mrs. Nonamker, Mrs. Micheals, Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Blasinsky left to do so, but the other six said they had no money at present and were confined to the jail.

The arrests came about 7:45 as the women attempted to block the road for a second day.

School officials reported attendance from the section affected was up today and it was not possible, they added, to determine absentees were ill or out because of the dispute.

Yesterday, when deputies arrived at the scene, the women had left, but threatened to continue the dispute.

Walter Batalo, head of the Pughtown garage of the State Road Commission, said he knows nothing of the dispute and added the Lawrenceville Rd. was paved about two years ago and the Johnsonville Rd. also is in good condition.

Newsmen At Port Say Israeli Plane Penetrated Area

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — New firing broke out today near Egypt's still blazing Suez oil refineries, as the Soviet Union pushed for support in the U.N. Security Council to condemn Israel as the aggressor in Tuesday's three-hour artillery battle.

Newsmen touring the ravaged Egyptian port at the southern end of the Suez Canal reported an Israeli plane penetrated Egyptian air space and sprayed machine-gun bullets at men struggling to put out fires set off by Israeli shells the day before.

But Israeli military officials across the canal in Port Taufiq said nervous Egyptian flak gunners opened up on one of their own Soviet-made Sukhoi 7 fighters as it swept low over Egypt's west bank of the canal. Flak bracketed the craft, the Israelis said, but it did not appear to be hit.

"He was lucky," an Israeli officer said. "Our gunners might have opened up."

The Israelis charged Egyptian forces raked Israeli positions with machine-gun fire at the southern end of the Great Bitter Lake, about 15 miles north of Port Taufiq. There were no casualties and the fire was not returned, they said.

Thick smoke curled from at least five fires in Suez and cast a huge shadow over the canal's southern entrance. A long black stream of smoke trailed 20 miles into the Sinai Desert.

The Israeli army reported trouble on another frontier. It said two Israeli soldiers were killed, another was seriously wounded and an Arab was killed in a clash between troops and Arab infiltrators seven miles north of the Damya Bridge spanning the Jordan River.

At the United Nations, there seemed little chance the Russians could round up enough votes to secure approval of their resolution condemning Israel.

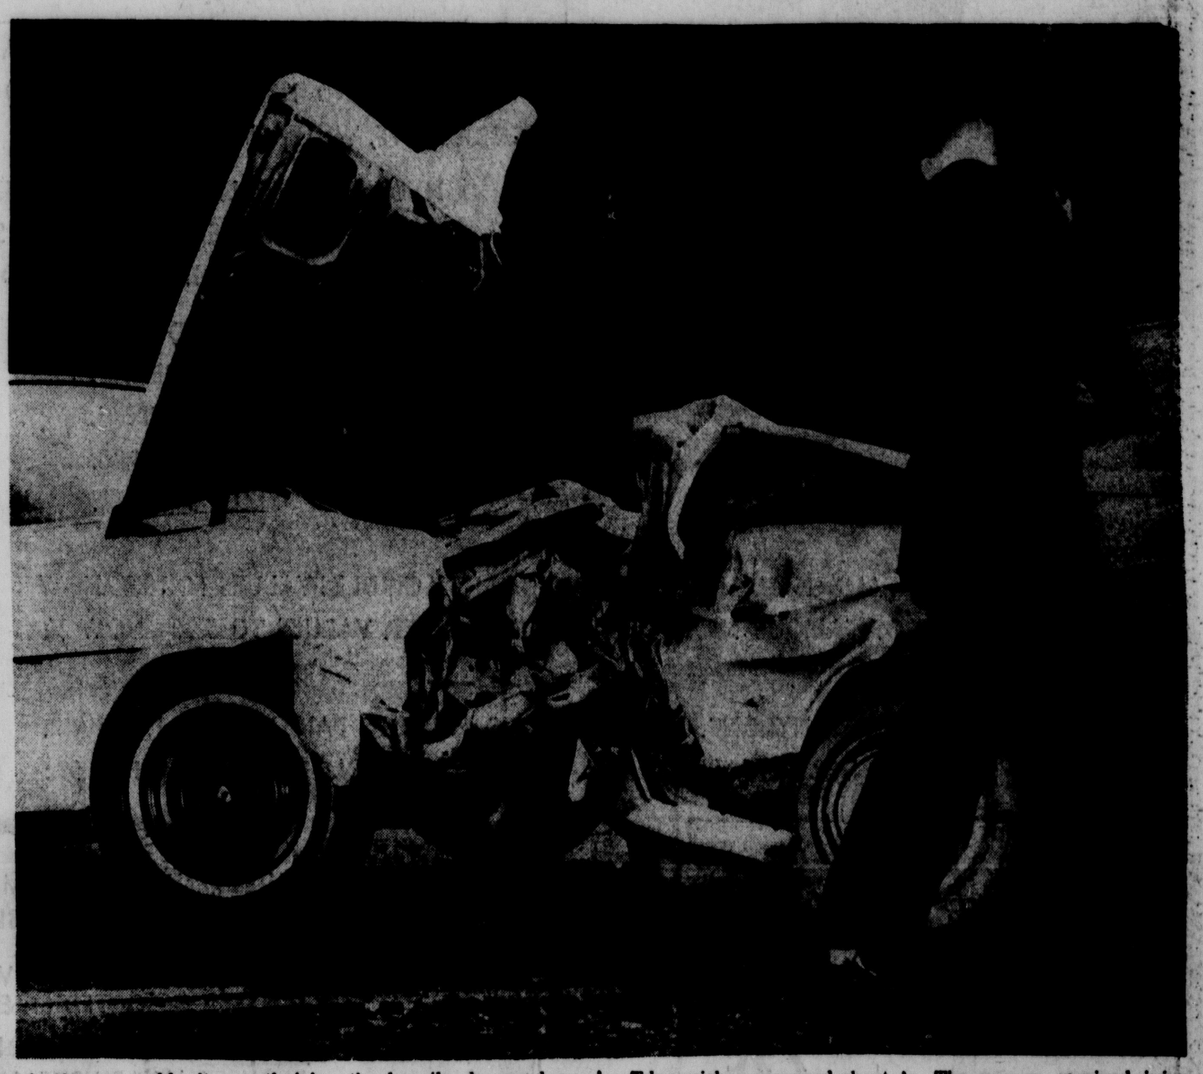

Chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg brushed aside the Soviet resolution, terming it a 'midnight rerun of this stale record." He introduced a resolution calling on the council to condemn all violations of the Arab-Israeli cease-fire.

Israel and Egypt blamed each other for triggering the fierce artillery and mortar duel at the southern end of the Suez Canal. Fires still roared today in Egypt's two major oil refineries in the city of Suez which produced 80 per cent of Egypt's petroleun. The pipeline terminal at nearby Port Taufiq also was ablaze.

Gov. Hamid Mahmoud of Suez told visiting newsmen one refinery was almost completely destroyed Tuesday and the other was half flattened. He said three civilians were killed and 60 wounded by the Israeli shelling, while an Egyptian communique said military casualties were three killed and 12 wounded.

3 Injured In Head-On Collision

A 19-year - old city youth and a Negley area mother and her daughter, 11, were injured in a violent head-on collision on Route 7 just south of Brookside this morning.

In "fair" condition at City Hospital were Russell Poling Jr. of 2208 Ohio Ave.; Mrs. Mary Lou McCoy, of Negley RD 1 and her daughter, Sandra Lou, 11.

The mishap occurred about 8:30 a.m. on the straight section of Route 7 where the former Horseshoe Curves at Williamsport were located.

Poling, son of Russell Poling of Ohio Ave., suffered an injury to the right knee.

The woman received injuries of the face, knee, arm and chest. Her daughter suffered bruises of the head, shoulder and neck, and facial injuries.

Poling was headed north and the woman south, witnesses said.

'Mistaken Identity'

Charge Dropped In Robbery Case

An alleged case of "mistaken identity" today freed David Cunningham, 19, of E. 2nd St. of a charge he held up a Klondyke diner Oct. 9.

Acting on a motion of Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp today dismissed the charge of armed robbery facing Cunningham in connection with an $80 stickup at the Little Diner on Harvey Ave.

Cunningham still faces a second armed robbery charge in connection with another stickup the same date. He also is accused of a $731 holduo the night of Oct. 9 at the Ohnezeit Grocery on Pennsylvania Ave.

A second holdup at the diner last Friday morning provided the circumstance that led to absolving Cunningham of the first charge.

A young man who held up the proprietor, Mrs. Nellie Taylor, fled with $3 from the cash register after telling her: "They got the wrong bandit."

Mrs. Taylor agreed. She told police she is certain the man who held her up last Friday is the same one who pulled the stickup Oct. 9.

The day before the second holdup at the diner, Cunningham had been arraigned before Kapp on both the robbery charges. He pleaded not guilty in both cases and was returned to jail in lieu of bond. He still was in jail when the diner was held up for the second time the following morning.

In the Oct. 9 cases, the Little Diner was held up early in the morning and the grocery hold up was staged 17 hours later.

Cunningham is slated for a preliminary hearing Nov. 2 on the charge of holding up the grocery.

Two more armed robberies in the area still are under investigation of Sheriff Russell Van Fossan's office. A Glenmoor service station was robbed of $130 on Oct. 10 and $67 was taken at gunpoint Oct. 14 at a Calcutta pharmacy.

U.S. Bombs Big Air Base, Hanoi Bridge

Planes Strike Vital MIG Site Second Consecutive Day

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes flew through challenging MIGs and heavy flak today for followup strikes on North Vietnam's biggest air base and a new raid on the mile-long Doumer Bridge in the capital of Hanoi.

It was the second consecutive raid on the vital MIG airfield at Phuc Yen, previously on the Pentagon's restricted target list, and the second strike at the Doumer Bridge which was hit once before on Aug. 11.

The bridge carries most of the city's road and rail traffic across the Red River on the heavily travelled northeast route to Red China.

It was the second consecutive day of maximum effort raids by Air Force fighter-bombers from bases in Thailand.

The heavily laden F105 Thunderchiefs swept over Phuc Yen to again crater the 9,170-foot runway and to blast maintenance and support facilities north of the field which were untouched in Tuesday's raids.

The initial reports of the raid on Hanoi's Doumer Bridge said the bombs were "on target" but did not have further details. The Aug. 11 raid dropped a span in the dead center of the mile-long, 19-span concrete structure. The bridge is 1.7 miles from the city's center. The Air Force said photos showed the bombed out span had been repaired and the bridge was again carrying road and probably rail traffic.

A U.S. military spokesman said the raiders tangled twice today with MIG interceptors but reported no kills for either side.

Board Candidates Restate Views

By HARRY STEWART

Eight of East Liverpool's nine Board of Education candidates expounded their platforms and answered questions during a "Town Meeting" Tuesday night at Westgate Auditorium.

John Woomer, an incumbent board member, was unable to attend because of illness.

Participating were Postmaster Samuel W. Brown and Richard Smith, incumbents, Larry Walton, Tom Rodfong, Richard Wolf, Kenneth Persohn, George Ward and Willis Standley. Most reiterated thoughts expressed in Monday's Review.

More than 100 attended the session sponsored by the East Liverpool Jaycees. Alfred Fricano was chairman and Rod Baum served as moderator.

Each candidate reviewed his background and presented his platform.

BROWN SAID he would work to give the taxpayers the best possible system of education, the most economical, provide good administrators and teachers for the students, provide a well - rounded program, bring the present building program to a successful conclusion and vote as the majority of the electorate would "want me to."

—:—

PERSOHN, a fifth - grade teacher at Stanton Local, said he feels his background in teaching qualifies him as a candidate and assured he would work for good teachers and administrators, for better public relations and a better relationship between the administration and the teachers.

—:—

RODFONG, A Crucible Steel Co. employe, declared his platform includes improving communications between the public and the board and obtaining and maintaining good teachers.

—:—

SMITH, who resides at 1112 St. George St., reviewed the past four years he has served on the board. He said the athletic program is solvent for the first time in many years, the new building program is under way, many improvements have been made in the present system and new contracts have been negotiated with employes. He said he will continue to serve the system "honestly, dil-

Affects East End Tract

Zoning Change Approved By Planning Commission

The City Planning Commission, meeting Tuesday night at City Hall, approved an application for a change in zoning on four lots along Pennsylvania Ave., East End, and clearing the way for construction of a new service station.

The commission's decision, which now will be passed on to Council for legislative action, affects a small tract of property bounded by Long Alley, Pennsylvania Ave., Virginia Ave. and the east line of Lot 1772.

A public hearing was held on the request Oct. 6, but the decision was deferred until last night. The change covers property at 1044, 1046 and 1048 Pennsylvania Ave., owned by the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, and property at 537 Virginia Ave. owned by Henry and Sarah Ward. Both applications stated that if the change in classification was granted the property would be used for a service station by the Bonded Oil Co. of Springfield.

The commission approved a change in the classification from R-3 (medium density residential) to B-2 (neighborhood shopping center.)

The commission received no objections to the change in the public hearing. Under the law, it was required to mail advance notice to all persons owning property within a radius of 200 feet of the affected site. The commission received the applications at its meeting Aug. 28, when the hearing date was set. It was required to give at least 30 days' advance public notice of the hearing.

The change affects primarily a big one-story structure that formerly housed the Veterans Social Club. It now is owned by the savings and loan firm.

When the question of the change arose last night, Mayor George E. Willshaw moved for approval, seconded by Frank Mangano.

"I don't think the property ever will be any good as an R-3 district," Willshaw said. "I don't

Jury Acquits Youth, 19, In 'Holdup' Case

James A. Way, 19, of 411½ Grove Alley was acquitted Tuesday in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon of a charge of assault with intent to commit robbery.

The jury deliberated 2½ hours after being charged by Judge Joel H. Sharp. Testimony ended Monday — the first day of trial — and closing arguments were made Tuesday morning.

Loren D. Johnson of 315 E. 9th St. and James Salsberry of 208 W. 7th St. testified Way was one of three youths who "surrounded" them about 2 a.m. July 10 on Dresden Ave.

The complainants said Way asked them for 50 cents and, when they refused him, pulled a small pistol and told them "You'd better have 25 cents!" Johnson said he pulled out his wallet on seeing the gun, but Way did not take it. Johnson said he picked up a piece of brick in each hand and told Way he'd better shoot because

Martins Ferry Public Schools Still Closed

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP) — There were no classes in Martins Ferry public schools again Wednesday as teacher members of the Classroomn Teachers Association held a "professional study day" and remained away from classes in a pay dispute with the Board of Education.

Meanwhile the teachers have submitted a five-point demand to the board, and turned down a tentative salary schedule submitted by school officials.

'Spook Night' Due Tuesday For Children

Police Chief A. J. Radeschi today requested East Liverpool youngsters to restrict their Halloween "trick or treat" rounds to Tuesday night between 6 and 9.

In designating the official "spook night," the chief followed a local custom so that all the costumed youngsters will make their Halloween calls on one evening, rather than spreading them over several dates.

He urged motorists to be particularly careful on the "trick or treat" night, reminding that hundreds of youngsters will be roaming the streets.

"A child wearing a mask may have his vision partly impaired," the chief warned drivers. "In addition, because of the excitement of the night, they may thoughtlessly run into the street in the path of cars."

Remainder To Vote Today

4 UAW Locals Approve New Contract With Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Skilled tradesmen and production workers in four locals of the United Auto Workers union have approved the new contract with Ford Motor Co by comfortable margins.

Production workers voted heavily for the pact Tuesday while skilled tradesmen approved it by a better than two-to-one margin. Some skilled tradesmen had made a last minute bid for rejection of the contract.

The remainder of the UAW's 160,000 Ford members in 101 bargaining units vote today.

The returns came after back-to-back television appearances Tuesday by UAW President Walter P. Reuther who appealed for approval and unhappy tradesmen calling for rejection of the contract.

If the contract is approved workers in 25 Ford plants across the country would resume work schedules Thursday and Friday. Striking workers have been living on benefits ranging from $20 to $30 a week and Ford's new car sales have fallen drastically this month.

The dissident tradesmen, led by Chris Manning, president of a Chevrolet local, purchased a half-hour's television time and attacked the contract, urging its rejection.

Reuther appeared immediately before Manning in an unprecedented television appeal for ratification. He told some 80,000 Ford members in Michigan that "if you strike for three more months, it is our judgment there will be no substantial improvement in this contract."

The union said it purchased the television time because the new pact is complicated and because of the strike, now in its 49th day.

New Blacktop Heaved Up By Water Break

A geyser nearly 15 feet high erupted into the air as a street department employe turned on a hydrant at the southwest corner of the intersection to flush debris from the gutter. It subsided quickly, however.

A water department employe, summoned by police, arrived within 20 minutes to turn a valve and stop the flow until repairs could be made.

The force of the water heaved up some of the new blacktop surface laid about two weeks ago by the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry. Most of the pavement subsided to its normal level, but some was left heaved up erratically — particularly a small section near the nteresection of the two streets.

Police said Washington St.

BROWN SAID he would work to give the taxpayers the best possible system of education, the most economical, provide good administrators and teachers for the students, provide a well - rounded program, bring the present building program to a successful conclusion and vote as the majority of the electorate would "want me to."

PERSOHN, a fifth - grade teacher at Stanton Local, said he feels his background in teaching qualifies him as a candidate and assured he would work for good teachers and administrators, for better public relations and a better relationship between the administration and the teachers.

RODFONG, A Crucible Steel Co. employe, declared his platform includes improving communications between the public and the board and obtaining and maintaining good teachers.

SMITH, who resides at 1112 St. George St., reviewed the past four years he has served on the board. He said the athletic program is solvent for the first time in many years, the new building program is under way, many improvements have been made in the present system and new contracts have been negotiated with employes. 'Spook Night' Due Tuesday For Children

Police Chief A. J. Radeschi today requested East Liverpool youngsters to restrict their Halloween "trick or treat" rounds to Tuesday night between 6 and 9.

In designating the official "spook night," the chief followed a local custom so that all the costumed youngsters will make their Halloween calls on one evening, rather than spreading them over several dates.

He urged motorists to be particularly careful on the "trick or treat" night, reminding that hundreds of youngsters will be roaming the streets.

"A child wearing a mask may have his vision partly impaired," the chief warned drivers. "In addition, because of the excitement of the night, they may thoughtlessly run into the street in the path of cars."

4 UAW Locals Approve New Contract With Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Skilled tradesmen and production workers in four locals of the United Auto Workers union have approved the new contract with Ford Motor Co. by comfortable margins.

Production workers voted heavily for the pact Tuesday while skilled tradesmen approved it by a better than two-to-one margin. Some skilled tradesmen had made a last minute bid for rejection of the contract.

The remainder of the UAW's 160,000 Ford members in 101 bargaining units vote today.

The returns came after back-to-back television appearances Tuesday by UAW President Walter P. Reuther who appealed for approval and unhappy tradesmen calling for rejection of the contract.

If the contract is approved workers in 25 Ford plants across the country would resume work schedules Thursday and Friday. Striking workers have been living on benefits ranging from $20 to $30 a week and Ford's new car sales have fallen drastically this month.

The dissident tradesmen, led by Chris Manning, president of a Chevrolet local, purchased a half-hour's television time and attacked the contract, urging its rejection.

Reuther appeared immediately before Manning in an unprecedented television appeal for ratification. He told some 80,000 Ford members in Michigan that "if you strike for three more months, it is our judgment there will be no substantial improvement in this contract."

The union said it purchased the television time because the new pact is complicated and because of the strike, now in its 49th day.

New Blacktop Heaved Up By Water Break

A geyser nearly 15 feet high erupted into the air as a street department employe turned on a hydrant at the southwest corner of the intersection to flush debris from the gutter. It subsided quickly, however.

A water department employe, summoned by police, arrived within 20 minutes to turn a valve and stop the flow until repairs could be made.

The force of the water heaved up some of the new blacktop surface laid about two weeks ago by the Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry. Most of the pavement subsided to its normal level, but some was left heaved up erratically — particularly a small section near the nteresection of the two streets.

Police said Washington St.

County's Voters Will Decide On TB Levy Again

LISBON — Columbiana County voters since 1946 have approved a tax for the control of tuberculosis and the care and treatment of TB patients.

A four - tenths of a mill renewal for five years will be on the ballot Nov. 7. The levy brings in approximately $100,000 annually.

Millage asked has decreased from eight - tenths of a mill in 1946 to six - tenths in 1952 and four-tenths in 1963.

—:—

ESTABLISHED by the county commissioners May 1, 1949, the county TB clinic is at present under the control of three trustees — Felix Butch of Lisbon, chairman; Dr. F. R. Crowgey, Salem physician, and James Sigler of East Liverpool.

The staff includes Dr. M. K. Singer, medical director; Theda Thornton, supervising nurse, and Helen Yeager and Marian Tucker, staff nurses.

Trustees point out the tax is the only operating money the clinic receives, and then only when needed. They note only two - tenths of a mill was collected in 1963, nothing in 1964 and 1965, and four - tenths in 1966.

Some people think the clinic gets Christmas Seal money, but that campaign is conducted by the County Public Health League, a voluntary health organization, trustees said.

THE TB levy provides for:

1. — Hospital care for all county TB patients in hospitals. The clinic's September report listed seven in hospital patients.

2. — Medicines for approximately 150 patients taking anti-TB drugs at home.

3. — Monthly home visits, when indicated, by a TB clinic nurse to patients on drug therapy.

4. — Administering Heaf tuberculin skin tests for every school child in the county — city, village, rural and parochial schools. Grades 1, 3, 5, 8, 10 and 12 — a total of about 15,000 boys and girls — are tested each year.

5. — Mantoux tests at the TB clinic on the third floor of the Courthouse here for all county residents who desire it. Approximately 1,700 Mantoux tests are given annually. They are required for food handlers, school bus drivers and teachers who have not had a negative X-ray within a year.

6. — Chest X-rays for all who react to the Mantoux and, periodically, for all county residents who have diagnosed cases of tuberculosis. the clinic made approximately 1,100 X-rays last year. The films are interpreted by the medical director and he sends a confidential report to the patient's doctor.

The trustees say all these services, plus consultation with the medical director, are provided without charge. The clinic is open form 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. until noon on Saturday.

Clinic nurses, on occasion, go to industries or offices where a case of tuberculosis has been found, and "Mantoux" the contacts, the trustees added.

Ohio's New Mental Health Services Act Being Attacked

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's new Community Mental Health Services Act goes into effect Thursday, and already it has become the target of criticism.

The program was the target of an attack here Tuesday at sessions of the Ohio Welfare Conference and the Ohio Mental Health Association, which wraps up four days of meetings today.

Most vocal critic of the act was Raymond E. Hildebrand, president of the Lucas County Mental Health League.

He said the law is a major step toward providing improved services, but he criticized the legislature for failing to provide the necessary funds.

The act requires establishment of a community mental health and retardation service program in every county or combination of counties with a population of at least 50,000. It also authorizes commissioners to permit such a program in a county or counties below 50,000 population.

Hildebrand, a former state senator, attacked Gov. James A. Rhodes for what he said was "traveling across the state showing that this law will revolutionize mental health care. . . ."

Hildebrand said, "You aren't going to revolutionize anything without providing funds for it."

The executive secretary of the Lorain County Child Welfare Board, Thomas Porter, said financing likely may come from county income taxes levied by the legislature.

"This is not fair," he said.

Traffic Congestion Forces Market Move

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The state government has decided to move the Sydney fruit and vegetable markets from Haymarket at the southern end of the city to Flemington, a suburb nine miles out.

The present 25-acre site causes traffic congestion in the early mornings, and there is no scope for expansion. Cost of the move to the 87-acre Flemington site is estimated at between $10,752,000 and $14,784,000.

The Department of Technical Education has proposed development of the present markets area as a group of education buildings.

Ohio Native Victim Of Murder-Robbery

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The body of prominent St. Louis Lawyer William F. Guffey, 57, a native Ohioan, was found in a motel room Tuesday. He was the victim in an apparent murder-robbery, police reported.

Guffey, director of labor relations for Anheuser - Busch, Inc., arrived in Tampa Monday and was scheduled to attend a meeting Tuesday at the company's brewery here. He was born in Zanesville, Ohio.

Airing The Issues

The effort of the East Liverpool Jaycees to get the issues of the city school board contest before the public proved less than successful Tuesday night when the majority of the eight candidates on the forum adopted a "me too" approach to education.

What the school district needs is better public relations, more extra - curricular activities, greater public support, according to the consensus of the nominees.

Richard Wolf took an expected verbal swing at the present board and administration, but came up with no plausible proposals. But incumbent Richard Smith was the only one to comment — it was his question by lot — on whether the district's financial problems can be met without additional tax dollars. His straight - forward reply was more money will have to come eventually from the state or somewhere if any school district expects to provide the proper programs for young people.

In all, the evening again proved most candidates prefer to be vague about election issues in order not to lose the backing of voters who might be offended by a stand on a specific idea, criticism of a particular person or program.

The use of prepared questions rather than ones obtained from the audience paved the way for dull airing of generalities except for a few occasions. The sparse turnout indicated that the public expected as much.

The Jaycees are to be commended for seeking to bring the candidates and issues into focus. Perhaps the next time a panel of questioners to pry the issues out of the candidates might be in order.

Hallowen Chat

Comes now that time of year when city and village officials issue dire warnings against Halloween vandalism, establish curfews, set up penalties and boost police patrols.

Some young people do not realize the destructive effects of what they consider lighthearted street play. Others know full well the expense and inconvenience their acts cause, and their pranks thus are really malicious.

In any case, under any name, the damaging of property and the harassment of householders can not be tolerated, and the most effective way to curb such vandalism is to punish the youngsters and have their parents pay the cost of the repairs.

The breaking of auto antennas of six cars in Chester over the weekend cost the parents of three boys $20 each, and we assume some interesting discussions on the responsibility of young people were held in those homes afterward.

Comes now that time of year when all mothers and fathers should have a serious talk with their offspring on the facts of Halloween —behaviorwise, moneywise and otherwise. . .

The Pattern Of Bargaining

The near accord in United Auto Workers and Ford bargaining is good news for strikers and an indication of what is in store for other companies in the industry.

It is the pattern for union bargainers to work out an agreement with one company in an industry, then use it as a guide and level when dealing with other companies in the same industry.

The same agreement also is used as a talking point by other unions in different industries.

It appears union negotiation practices have reached the goal foreseen in the early part of the 20th century when collective bargaining was a dream.

By pinpointing a single company with which to negotiate, the union gains its demands without shutting down a whole industry and giving the country's economy a severe jolt.

Even though the union pays strike benefits, a prolonged bargaining session is hard on strikers.

The union has figured the hardship angle, too. It doesn't pick the same company to deal with each time.

And to make sure the company isn't dealt a blow harsh enough to put it out of business, the union will let the word out far enough ahead of the strike to make sure there will be an inventory to carry the firm through.

That is what happened in the Ford strike. Walter Reuther let it be known early enough in the pre-strike campaign that Ford would be the target to enable the company to build a stock inventory.

Based on the Ford-UAW agreement, Chrysler, GM and American Motors now know what type of a contract they will be signing.

Ford and UAW decided it for them.

Through GOP Eyes

WASHINGTON

The five Republicans most talked of as their party's presidential candidate in 1968 don't agree on how to handle the war in Vietnam but, with one exception, they have managed very briskly to team up against President Johnson.

The one exception is New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who says he doesn't want to be a candidate at all.

The other four sound alike in questioning the Johnson administration's truthfulness in telling the American people about the war. They are former Vice President Richard N. Nixon, Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Ronald Reagan of California and Sen. Charles H. Perey of Illinois.

Of the five Republicans, Romney is the one who has been all over the lot. At one time he said America had a moral right to be involved in the war. At another time he said getting involved was a bad mistake.

At one time he was for stepping up the bombing. But now he's against it. At the same time he is also against pulling out. He talked about the moral rightness of American involvement in November 1965 after he and other governors had visited Vietnam.

THIS YEAR he said he was brainwashed in Vietnam by American diplomats and military men, but it's hard to see how, since he came away with a gloomy picture, predicting things might get worse before getting better.

Nine of the governors who went to Vietnam with Romney disputed his brainwashing charge. And Nixon, who went to Vietnam nine times to Romney's twice, said he had no complaints about the briefings he got on his visits there.

It was on Romney's brainwashing complaint that Rockefeller came closest to joining the chorus against the "credibility" of Johnson. But he was very guarded.

He said Romney's use of "Brainwashing" was an attempt to dramatize his views that the administration was giving a one - sided picture of the war.

But Rockefeller, unlike the others, hasn't made any complaints about Johnson's handling of the war. He said judgments on U.S. bombing in Vietnam should be made only by those with special intelligence information, which is what Johnson has.

And he has said of Johnson's handling of the war: "I think he's doing the best he can."

Reagan and Nixon are all for stepping up the pace of U.S. military action in Vietnam. Reagan has called on the government to throw its full military push into the war to win it as soon as possible. He proposed "sharp escalation" but said nuclear bombs weren't necessary.

Nixon says the war must be shortened by use of "massive pressure" and he, too, wants to avoid nuclear weaponry.

"The President," Nixon says, "by gradual escalation has frittered away the advantage that massive pressure should have given us." Nixon says he doesn't want his fellow contenders for the nomination to run on a platform of "peace at any price."

PERCY HAS wanted to be critical of the way the war is going, but at the same time has been very cautions about suggestions. The result is not clear.

He says total military victory is impossible, there should be no further escalation, more Asians should be involved in the fighting. He called for an end to U.S. bombing near Red China's border. At one time he denied he was suggesting U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam but at another he said "gradual withdrawal" could be accomplished if the Johnson administration would just get more South Vietnamese to do the fighting.

Reagan, Nixon and Percy — in addition to Romney — have all taken pokes at the Johnson administration's truthfulness, but Reagan has put a twist on it different from any of the others.

He said the war is going better than the administration has told the people and that it won't tell the real story until it's ready.

Percy says he thinks it's questionable that Americans have been told the truth; Nixon complains that American influence in the world is failing because other nations no longer believe what Johnson's spokesmen say; Romney accuses the administration of keeping the real facts from the people by a "systematic continuation of inaccurate reports, predictions and withholding information."

This is the Great Hush in Rosy Fingered Dawn. The birds have stopped singing. The howl of winter gales and the spatter of autumnal rain have not begun. Visitors exclaim about the noislessness, which in itself can be "noisier" than the noises they are accustomed to.

The new grass-mowing machine that brightened my summer and enabled me to turn Rosy Fingered Dawn into a vast lawn is back from the hospital, where I put it by backing it into a tree — whomp. You'd be surprised how many parts sustained bruises and abrasions.

I never knew what a lentil is until I ordered lentil soup. I always thought it had something to do with onions. That's how dumb you can be.

I challenge tax experts who say a tax increase holds down inflation, Nonsense. It accelerates inflation. Prices go up, wage rates go up, everything goes up. The experts are two generations behind econimic reality. People don't grin and bear tax boosts any more. They fight.

I wonder if Trumpeter Herb Alpert isn't using a larger than ordinary mouthpiece on his trumpet. In any event, he shows no evidence of the endless lip-pursing that marks the faces of old-timers like Louie Armstrong.

VICTOR RIESEL

Aid To Vietnam Endangered

NEW YORK — There now is positive evidence that the Soviet's World Federation of Trade Unions WFTU has completed detailed plans for the crippling of America's sea lift of war material, machines, food and even manpower now flowing into South Vietnam.

Victor Riesel

Details of this global Soviet strategy to paralyze ports now being used by America and our allies have just been sifted here at a closed-door conference of U.S. waterfront labor leaders in big Joe Curran's National Maritime Union NMU "hall."

Then a warning of his Moscow action, which will be concentrated in the Pacific and extended to European docks, was dispatched to President Johnson in a communication signed by Curran and four other U.S. maritime labor chiefs—Teddy Gleason, leader of the International Longshoremen's Assn.; Jesse Calhoon, head of the Marine Engineers; Bill Steinberg, chief of the radio operators, and Capt. Sheldon, president of the masters, mates and pilots.

They pledged swift retaliatory action. Since the Communist-Socialist controlled 4 million-member Japanese Confederation of Trade Unions, Sohyo is the pivot of this sea assault on America's supplies, counteraction could mean the shutting of America's ports to all Japenses ocean-borne commerce.

First word of this Soviet-Hanoi stratagem designed to slow the flood of American supplies for the Southeast Asian war fronts came from Hans Imhof, leader of the International Transport Workers' Federation ITF. This is a London based coalition of air, land and sea transport unions straddling the entire free world.

It was William Perry, assistant to NMU president Joe Curran, who then catalyzed the moves for "counteraction" to "frustrate" the paralysis of American war shipping.

CURRAN AND HIS colleagues took the ITF information seriously indeed. Mr. Imhof is hardly one to float red scare stories. He speaks for more than 7 million men and, pragmatically as well as philsophically, is not given to fantasies.

"Dear Friends, We have been informed," wrote he on Oct. 10, "that Sohyo has proposed the convening of a conference of Asian and Australiasian transport workers' unions to consider measures to halt shipments to South Vietnam.

"The proposal originates from contacts between Sohyo and the North Vietnamese trades union center in Hanoi—VR. For a number of years, the ITF has periodically alerted its affiliates to the activity of an 'All-Pacific' dockers' organization, made up of Communist led or influenced unions in Japan and Australia. . . ."

This "dockers waterfront organization" has "unmistakably political rather than industrial aims," Inhof wrote. He also indicated that the politicalized dockers would seek the cooperation of longshoremen "on the West Coast of the U.S."

"The danger of any involvement whatsoever," said Imhof, "in the proposed conference is obvious.We therefore request our affiliates to decline any invitation and to send no messages. We should also be grateful if you could advise us immediately of any approach that is made to you concerning the conference and to inform us of any relevent news that comes your way."

Quickly the U.S. waterfront labor leaders met on the morning of Tuesday, Oct. 17. Their first action was to telegraph President Johnson, first to warn him, secondly to tell him they would close all American ports to all countries where Communist and left-wing dockers hit U.S. ships.

The American Labor leaders, according to Bill Perry, had learned that the pro-Hanoi foreign dockers were ready to strike against any ship of any nationality which carried any cargo from anywhere to South Vietnam.

The five national labor chiefs told President Johnson that they were now set to "counter" Sohyo's "international action program for stopping ships headed for South Vietnam."

SAID THE U.S. LABOR leader's communication to the President:

"The principaal tactic of Sohyo would be to use members of Communist-dominated seamen's and longshoremen's unions to halt shipping en route to the embattled nation. . . . We regard this as a serious threat to South Vietnamese people and to our national interest and we are maknig plans to counter it with the support of the AFL-CIO and other free labor organizations around the world. We will apply our full strength and all the resources at our command to prevent any interference, by politically oriented unions anywhere in the world, with shipping to South Vietnam."

At the same time, the five U.S. labor leaders urged Mr. Johnson to direct the Department of Defense to stop using ships which are manned by foreign nationals, especially Japanese. The Navy and the Military SKEA Transportation Service employ many foreign nationals on cargo haulers, LST's landing ship tanks and other governmental craft.

Joe Curran frequently has charged that some ships going into South Vietnamese ports actually use seamen belonging to a Peking-dominated Hong Kong waterfront union.

And at this moment the American maritime labor leaders are certain that much of the global Communist waterfront strategy is being directed by the former Soviet secret police KGB chief Alexander Shelepin, now chairman of the so-called U.S.S.R. Labor Federation. Shelepin was named a WFTU vice president in Prague on Sept. 5. At about that time the drive to clog America's sea lanes into Vietnam took on speed.

DAVID LAWRENCE

GOP Disunity

The Republican party is giving the country an impression of disunity and discord — a seeming inability to make up its mind on what ought to be done in national or international policy.

The 46 governors — Republicans and Democrats — gathered together in a week's conference could not muster the necessary votes to pass a resolution expressing an opinion about the Vietnam War because of the wide divergence of viewpoints. This was one of the most discouraging episodes in national politics.

Reports vary as to what were the motivating influences in preventing any resolution from being adopted on the Vietnam question. It is apparent, however, that the Republicans could not agree among themselves, while the Democratic governors did not have enough votes to bring up a simple resolution supporting the president of the United States in the midst of a war.

THE SAME situation prevails in Congress.

Republicans are divided, and so are Democrats. Many of the members are keeping an ear to the ground while trying to think of things to say that will please the folks back home.

The prevalent theory is that at present the people like to hear their representatives denounce the war and that anybody demanding "peace at any price" is expressing the "popular will."

Wars have always been unpopular. But so are taxes and so are any laws that are restrictive. There never has been a time, however, when the American people seemed so unaware of the true significance of a war insofar as their own safety and security are concerned.

Much of the misunderstanding is due to misleading speeches that have been made and superficial commentaries which ignore the role being played by the Soviet Union and Red China.

Appeasement brought on World War II, but evidently the politicians are willing to take risks by making statements which give the enemy an impression of American weakness.

Nearly all the potential candidates for the Republican presidential nomination have discussed the Vietnam War in abstract phrases. While supporting in general the objectives of the United States in Southeast Asia, criticism has been directed either at the military strategy or the alleged failure of the State Department to press intensively for a peace conference with the enemy.

All the sniping, however, doesn't go to the basic problem, which is that neither President Johnson nor Secretary Rusk nor the military chiefs have any control over the minds of the rulers in Hanoi, who have rebuffed every peace feeler.

IT MIGHT WELL be asked how a small nation like North Vietnam can afford to keep up the fight after the damage which has been inflicted by the American bombing operations.

The truth is that the United States is fighting not just North Vietnam but also the Russian and Red Chinese governments, which are rendering assistance, militarily and otherwise, to the Hanoi government.

Under these circumstances, one might have expected firm support from the Republicans for proposals to embargo shipments of arms or supplies by sea from any country in the world to North Vietnam.

This might have been accompanied also by a demand that the United States re-examine its diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia and its trade with Communist nations in Eastern Europe which are openly supporting the North Vietnam cause.

Democrats too, are vacillating. They have in their ranks many members of Congress who feel they must curry favor with voters back home by criticizing the policies of the Johnson administration in Vietnam.

The conduct of the Vietnam War unquestionably will be an issue in the 1968 campaign, but it looks now as if it will be widely misrepresented.

The people who will be voting against the administration on that particular point may not have the slightest idea of how a Republican administration would deal with the same problem.

Republicans have given no intimation of what they would do if they came into power.

We regard this as a serious threat to South Vietnamese people and to our national interest and we are maknig plans to counter it with the support of the AFL-CIO and other free labor organizations around the world. We will apply our full strength and all the resources at our command to prevent any interference, by politically oriented unions anywhere in the world, with shipping to South Vietnam."

At the same time, the five U.S. labor leaders urged Mr. Johnson to direct the Department of Defense to stop using ships which are manned by foreign nationals, especially Japanese. The Navy and the Military SKEA Transportation Service employ many foreign nationals on cargo haulers, LST's landing ship tanks and other governmental craft.

Joe Curran frequently has charged that some ships going into South Vietnamese ports actually use seamen belonging to a Peking-dominated Hong Kong waterfront union.

And at this moment the American maritime labor leaders are certain that much of the global Communist waterfront strategy is being directed by the former Soviet secret police KGB chief Alexander Shelepin, now chairman of the so-called U.S.S.R. Labor Federation. Shelepin was named a WFTU vice president in Prague on Sept. 5. At about that time the drive to clog America's sea lanes into Vietnam took on speed.

Berry's World

"Of course, I know what love's all about—I love 'The System' and The System loves me!"

DAVID LAWRENCE

GOP Disunity

The Republican party is giving the country an impression of disunity and discord — a seeming inability to make up its mind on what ought to be done in national or international policy.

The 46 governors — Republicans and Democrats — gathered together in a week's conference could not muster the necessary votes to pass a resolution expressing an opinion about the Vietnam War because of the wide divergence of viewpoints. This was one of the most discouraging episodes in national politics.

Reports vary as to what were the motivating influences in preventing any resolution from being adopted on the Vietnam question. It is apparent, however, that the Republicans could not agree among themselves, while the Democratic governors did not have enough votes to bring up a simple resolution supporting the president of the United States in the midst of a war.

THE SAME situation prevails in Congress. Republicans are divided, and so are Democrats. Many of the members are keeping an ear to the ground while trying to think of things to say that will please the folks back home.

The prevalent theory is that at present the people like to hear their representatives denounce the war and that anybody demanding "peace at any price" is expressing the "popular will."

Wars have always been unpopular. But so are taxes and so are any laws that are restrictive. There never has been a time, however, when the American people seemed so unaware of the true significance of a war insofar as their own safety and security are concerned.

Much of the misunderstanding is due to misleading speeches that have been made and superficial commentaries which ignore the role being played by the Soviet Union and Red China.

Appeasement brought on World War II, but evidently the politicians are willing to take risks by making statements which give the enemy an impression of American weakness.

Nearly all the potential candidates for the Republican presidential nomination have discussed the Vietnam War in abstract phrases. While supporting in general the objectives of the United States in Southeast Asia, criticism has been directed either at the military strategy or the alleged failure of the State Department to press intensively for a peace conference with the enemy.

All the sniping, however, doesn't go to the basic problem, which is that neither President Johnson nor Secretary Rusk nor the military chiefs have any control over the minds of the rulers in Hanoi, who have rebuffed every peace feeler.

IT MIGHT WELL be asked how a small nation like North Vietnam can afford to keep up the fight after the damage which has been inflicted by the American bombing operations.

The truth is that the United States is fighting not just North Vietnam but also the Russian and Red Chinese governments, which are rendering assistance, militarily and otherwise, to the Hanoi government.

Under these circumstances, one might have expected firm support from the Republicans for proposals to embargo shipments of arms or supplies by sea from any country in the world to North Vietnam.

This might have been accompanied also by a demand that the United States re-examine its diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia and its trade with Communist nations in Eastern Europe which are openly supporting the North Vietnam cause.

Democrats too, are vacillating. They have in their ranks many members of Congress who feel they must curry favor with voters back home by criticizing the policies of the Johnson administration in Vietnam.

The conduct of the Vietnam War unquestionably will be an issue in the 1968 campaign, but it looks now as if it will be widely misrepresented.

The people who will be voting against the administration on that particular point may not have the slightest idea of how a Republican administration would deal with the same problem.

Republicans have given no intimation of what they would do if they came into power.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Jean Mover of East Palestine was author of an article in the Birmingham (Ala.) post on the mine explosion which claimed 32 lives near that city.

Glenmoor Happy-Go-Luckv 4-H Club held its initial meeting and elected Lillian Jones president.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Judge Joel H. Sharp was re-elected chairman of the Columbiana County Chapter of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation.

Robert S. Cope of Wellsville was named an Ohio History Fellow of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society.

TEN YEARS AGO — Damage was estimated at $7,000 in a fire that destroyed the home of Mrs. Lettie Crowell on Route 30, four miles west of Lisbon.

Plans to contact West Virginia road officials at Charleston on the possibility of resurfacing Cemetery Hill Rd. were discussed by the New Cumberland Lions Club.

Annual Campaign Begins Nov. 14

Trains 'Puff Out' Story Of 1967 Christmas Seals

LISBON — The 1967 Christmas Seal design is the first 10-unit design in the history of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Each sheet of 100 seals is 10 Christmas trains 10 stamps long in white and black, red, green, yellow and blue.

The Columbiana County Public Health League on N. Market St. is preparing approximately 29,000 Christmas seal letters for the annual campaign beginning Nov. 14.

The seals depict an old - fashioned locomotive and cars carrying Christmas cargoes. The stamps read "Christmas 1967" or "Greetings 1967" and may be used individually or in a series to make a train up to 10½ inches long.

L. Gerald Snyder of Lafayette, Calif., was the designer. He was graduated from San Francisco Art Institute in 1965 and is vice president and designer for Market Identities, Inc., a San Francisco Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The Public Health League's seal sale letter was prepared by Ray Reasbeck of Salem, who

San Francisco advertising firm. He is active on the seal campaign committee of the San accepted the post "in appreciation of my own personal victory over TB."

Promotional material for the NTA's 61st annual Christmas Seal campaign carries this message: "Use 'em — it's a matter of life and breath. Christmas Seals fight tuberculosis, Emphysema, air pollution."

U.N. Too Weak, Says Professor At Anniversary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 22nd anniversary of the founding of the United Nations in San Francisco was observed Tuesday with a plea for creation of a stronger international peace force.

"The U.N. is still far too weak," said Eugene Staley, a Stanford University economics professor who was a member of the committee on rights and duties of the General Assembly when 50 nations wrote the U.N. charter in 1945.

Speaking before a small gathering at the San Francisco Opera House, where the organizing sessions were held, Staley also urged giving U.N. the right to tax space communications, space travel and underocean commerce.

The economist advocated compulsory membership of all nations, including Communist China "without betraying the free people who fled to Taiwan."

Staley added such a move would be "a neat trick if you can do it."

Annual Campaign Begins Nov. 14

Trains 'Puff Out' Story Of 1967 Christmas Seals

LISBON — The 1967 Christmas Seal design is the first 10-unit design in the history of the National Tuberculosis Association.

Each sheet of 100 seals is 10 Christmas trains 10 stamps long in white and black, red, green, yellow and blue.

The Columbiana County Public Health League on N. Market St. is preparing approximately 29,000 Christmas seal letters for the annual campaign beginning Nov. 14.

The seals depict an old - fashioned locomotive and cars carrying Christmas cargoes. The stamps read "Christmas 1967" or "Greetings 1967" and may be used individually or in a series to make a train up to 10½ inches long.

L. Gerald Snyder of Lafayette, Calif., was the designer. He was graduated from San Francisco Art Institute in 1965 and is vice president and designer for Market Identities, Inc., a San Francisco advertising firm. He is active on the seal campaign committee of the San Francisco Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The Public Health League's seal sale letter was prepared by Ray Reasbeck of Salem, who accepted the post "in appreciation of my own personal victory over TB."

Promotional material for the NTA's 61st annual Christmas Seal campaign carries this message: "Use 'em — it's a matter of life and breath. Christmas Seals fight tuberculosis, Emphysema, air pollution."

U.N. Too Weak, Says Professor At Anniversary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 22nd anniversary of the founding of the United Nations in San Francisco was observed Tuesday with a plea for creation of a stronger international peace force.

HOW TO KNOW A MEDICAL QUACK

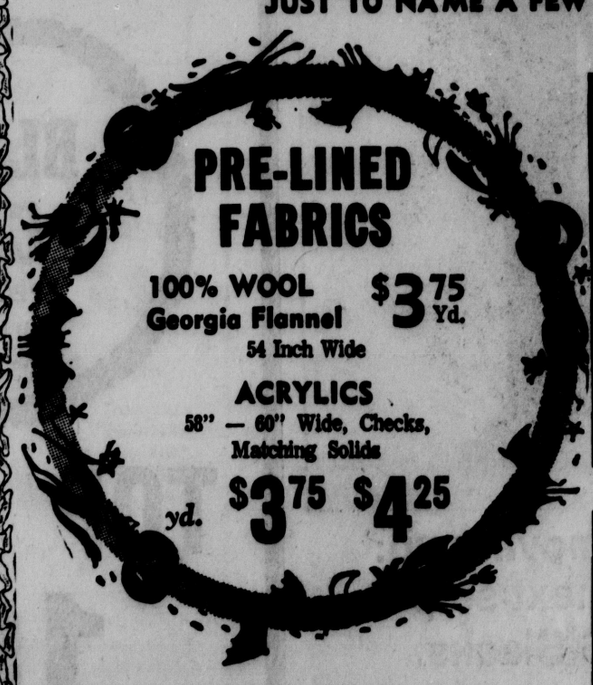

Quacks not only take your money, but also steal some of the precious time when early diagnosis and treatment of a disease can prevent much later danger.

Any person who guarantees a quick cure, uses a secret machine or formula, advertises testimonials of his cures, tells you surgery or x-rays do more harm than good, or claims the medical profession is persecuting him is a quack. The more he tells you that the physicians are afraid of his competition, the more certain you can be of his quackery. Beware of such fakers. Voltaire said, "The quack was born when the first knave met the first fool."

Mrs. Ruth E. Calhoun of 205 Beechwood St., who had not paid a fine on an Oct. 16 charge of driving an auto without a muffler, was back before the judge again on a charge of operating an unsafe motor vehicle.

Mrs. Calhoun was cited this morning at 2:53 on Walnut St. by Patrolman James Buckley. He told the court her auto was unsafe because it had three smooth tires. The judge fined her $15 and costs and suggested that she not drive the car "as long as it is in that condition."

Her driver's license still was being held in the court's office to guarantee payment of the first fine. She was released this morning after signing a contract to pay the second fine and costs.

Meanwhile, the judge set a hearing Friday morning for Emanuel Richard Green, 39, of 1625 Pennsylvania Ave., who pleaded not guilty to a charge of driving 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. Green was cited Monday at 7:30 p. m. by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

George R. Logan, 37, of Hammondsville RD 1 was fined $15 and costs on a charge of driving 90 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone, also on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. Driving a 1965 model sports car, he was cited Monday at 11:45 p. m. by the patrol.

Questioned by the court about his destination, Logan replied he was "'just going home."

"I would hate to see you in a hurry," the judge replied, remarking on the 90-mile pace.

Harvey Conley, 24, of New Cumberland forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of failure to halt for a stop sign at the junction of the Y. & O. Rd. and Route 30. He was cited by the patrol Monday at 2:12 p. m.

Blacktop

took on the aspect of a small creek until the broken line was shut off. The blacktop was reported heaved up from its base as far south on Washington as Summit Ln., but it had subsided at daybreak. The surface of the street was covered with a quantity of sand, indicating some of the base may have been washed out from underneath the thoroughfare's original brick paving.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said this morning there has been no exact determination of damage, but it may not be major.

The water department's line crew started an excavation to uncover the break. Supt. Harold Peterson said the fault probably lies in a valve stem in a 6-inch line near the hydrant. There was no service interruption for business places in the immediate area, as the hydrant is served by an independent line.

New Haulers' Strike Seen Threatening

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The threat of a second steel haulers strike loomed today with drivers accusing some trucking firms of refusing to rehire them in violation of the strike settlement.

William Kusley, leader of the bitter strike that tied up highway steel shipments for nine weeks, says he and about 50 other drivers are out of a job.

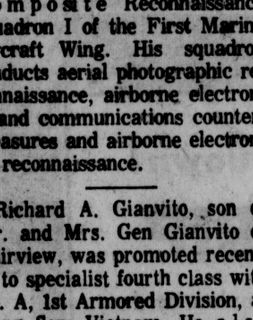

He said a dozen trucking firms in four states—Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania—have violated the strike-ending agreement promising no reprisals or loss of seniority.

"If we can't get everybody back to work, we'll just have to pull all the trucks off the road. I don't know what else we can do," Kusley said.

"It seems a shame that 12 or so firms are willing to risk tying up the entire industry again," he said Tuesday.

Most of the 10,000 to 20,000 haulers returned to work Tuesday as steel mills began pushing out orders backed up since the strike began in Gary, Ind., and spread through eight states.

Kusley, who organized owner-operators into a rebel group called the National Steel Haulers Protest Committee, said he's working with the Teamsters Union in an effort to iron out the problem.

took on the aspect of a small creek until the broken line was shut off. The blacktop was reported heaved up from its base as far south on Washington as Summit Ln., but it had subsided at daybreak. The surface of the street was covered with a quantity of sand, indicating some of the base may have been washed out from underneath the thoroughfare's original brick paving.

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said this morning there has been no exact determination of damage, but it may not be major.

The water department's line crew started an excavation to uncover the break. Supt. Harold Peterson said the fault probably lies in a valve stem in a 6-inch line near the hydrant. There was no service interruption for business places in the immediate area, as the hydrant is served by an independent line.

LISBON — Daniel W. Adams, 19, of 857 N. Ellsworth Ave., Salem, was bound over to the Columbiana County grand jury Tuesday on a charge of breaking entering.

Arraigned before Judge J. L. MacDonald in Southwest Court, Adams pleaded not guilty to a complaint that on Oct. 5 he broke into a building owned by Ray E. Whinery of Lisbon RD 4.

Adams was represented by court - appointed counsel. He waived a preliminary hearing and was taken to the County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Also bound over to the grand jury were Gene A. Bingham, 18, of Louisville and David Weekly, 18, of East Rochester RD 3, jointly charged with stealing a 1963 sedan last Feb. 14 from Guy Anderson.

Both pleaded not guilty and waived preliminary hearings. Judge MacDonald continued their bonds of $1,000 each.

igently and loyally." Smith is a steam pipe fitter.

—:—

STANDLEY, also a Crucible employe, resides at 1724 Idaho Ave. He said his platform includes obtaining and keeping good teachers, obtaining teacher aid materials and better communications with the public.

—:—

WALTON, who resides in Dixonville, said his military experience in training and planning help qualify him. He suggested a "vigorous campaign to enlist public support before any presentation of a levy of monetary value."

—:—

WARD, a ceramic engineer, said his platform includes improved communications and regaining the confidence of the public.

—:—

WOLF, WHO resides at 920 Peake St., said his past record speaks for his policy. He said he has been outspoken against the current board and administration. During his introductory talk, Wolf hit at the salary increases given the superintendent and assistant superintendent, charging the majority of their salaries does not come from foundation monies. Brown later refuted this and presented the formula used by the state in paying the superintendent and assistant.

—:—

DURING the series of questions, the candidates, with the exception of the incumbents, referred frequently to "lack of communications." No specific instances were cited, except that it was claimed the facts and figures were not presented the public relative to levies submitted.

Brown reviewed the duties of a board member and presented statements from an Ohio handbook for board members.

Walton commented that members have a moral obligation to represent the people and that the board should set policies, not the administration.

Walton said he feels school levies have failed because the public has no faith in the present board. It was a "no confidence vote," he claimed.

Persohn attributed the failure to the delay in the building program and the firing of one coach.

Smith said it was a "sign of the times," declaring that levies against real estate are no longer the answer to providing funds for operation of schools. The responsibility should be on the shoulders of all and not just the property - holders, he added.

STANDLEY said the levy was held over the "public's head like a club." We were told what would be taken away, but not what we would receive. Ward said it was a good exmple of the need of communications.

Smith, answering a question to whether school problems can be solved without additional tax dollars, said, "No. The days of dedication on the part of individuals for their jobs is through. People want paid for their work."

Wolf, questioned as to how the need for additional revenue could be presented to the public, said the only practical way to offer the facts fully and fairly, not by a "Madison Ave. advertising campaign." He suggested contacting more people.

Walton commented that board members must contact the public on a "me-to-you" basis in presenting facts and figures.

THE SPECIFIC question on public relations went to Ward. He said the public feels the board has concealed and held back information. Wolf said board members should not "talk down" or "belittle" anyone who appears before them.

Smith said the charge of poor public relations is not justified and in some instances has been "blown out of proportion." He also cited the fact meetings are open, but few persons take time to attend.

Relative to obtaining and maintaining qualified teachers, Persohn declared the superintendent should support and back the teachers. "They need a superintendent in whom they have confidence," he added. They are professional people and it should not be a "boss - employe standing," Persohn said. A turnover in teachers reflects on the administration and salary is not the primary thing in the minds of teachers, he added.

Standley commented that some organization should meet and welcome prospective teachers to help sell the community. Walton said the "boss-peon" attitude should be dropped, while Ward said teachers are professionals and should be treated accordingly.

Standley received the question concerning the need of extracurricular activities, and which should be emphasized. He said all organizations and clubs in the school system are filled to capacity and ways should be found to provide for broader participation by students.

Rodfong says he favors activities if they do not hinder the students' regular studies. Smith said they should be emphasized because they make "learning more pleasant."

The final question was how the public can help the educational system other than by voting for a tax levy.

Rodfong, first to answer, said the public should support the schools, become more active in PTA groups, attend school programs and back the students and teachers in their work. Persohn said interested parents help. Walton said the public could help by making their opinions known to the board.

J. Clifford Conley remarked if the property was rezoned for business use "'somebody might go in there with a liquor permit'" in close proximity to a church on Virginia Ave. "A gas station is bad enough close to a church," he added.

James Grafton commented that he believes the entire stretch of Pennsylvania Ave. from the Veterans Social Club property to Boyce St. should be rezoned for commercial use. Robert Owen agreed with Grafton.

Willshaw and George Steele, chairman, pointed out that the commission could not rezone the entire stretch — it could act only on the segment for which the application was filed.

Owen said there is at least one other commercial building in the stretch whose owner would approve rezoning. He said the stretch east to Boyce St. "is at least 50 per cent commercial."

The commission, after more than a half-hour of discussion, decided to approve the request with the thought that if other residents and property owners to the east of the affected tract wish a new zoning classification they can make application, as the law requires.

In other business, the commission approved a motion to submit to Council a recommendation for establishment of a new R-4 zoning district, designed specifically to cover proposed construction of a high rise apartment structure for the elderly in the West End district. The establishment of the new type district was requested by the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority, which will build the structure with a federally-guaranteed loan.

The housing authority pointed out that existing regulations do not provide for high - rise structures.

The commission approved the proposed new sections and forwarded them to Council for action. The addition to the zoning regulations will allow construction of an apartment building up to 12 stories, or a maximum of 120 feet.

The next regular meeting will be Monday, Nov. 13.

Staff Sgt. Clayton E. Anders, husband of Mrs. Arliss Streets Anders of the Chester area, is going to receive an aluminum Christmas tree about Dec. 1.

He is a mess hall sergeant in Vietnam and is expected home before Christmas, about Dec. 6, his wife said, but he wanted a tree for the mess hall.

Mrs. Anders bought the six-foot tree and, when a visit to area stores failed to produce Christmas baubles and ornaments, she bought styrofoam balls and other materials and called on neighborhood children to assist. At last count, 900 straight pins, various beads, sequins and other trimmings were used as well as a mass of pipe cleaners for the ornaments, Mrs. Anders said. Assisting in the project were the couple's two children, Dawnna Dai, 4, and Dean, 7, a student in the Chester Primary School.

Mrs. Anders is formerly of Canton. Her husband, from Phoenix, Ariz., has been in the Army eight years and is presently serving about 40 miles from DaNang.

Once again the AP and UPI Ohio high school football polls are as different as day and night.

In the AP (writers) voting, East Liverpool plummeted from 14th to a tie for 39th, getting just three votes. The coaches, voting for UPI, put the Potters 11th, up from 24th last week. Warren Western Reserve, tied with the Potters in the AP tally, is 24th by UPI. Struthers, an unbeaten team that defeated unbeaten Akron Hoban last week, is 20th according to the coaches, but gets not one vote from the writers. Circleville, on the other hand, is 10th in the AP poll and not mentioned by UPI. Boardman, the Potters' opponent Friday night, is tied for 27th in UPI, not mentioned in AP.

In addition to Circleville, Dover and Shelby are AP top tenners ranked lower in UPI. Zanesville, Cincinnati Princeton and Dayton Belmont are in the UPI Top 10, in the second 10 in the AP balloting.

Cleveland St. Joseph's, East Liverpool's foe Nov. 3, is 23rd in the UPI poll. St. Joseph's had a long unbeaten string snapped by a weak Chanel team a week ago.

BETHANY, W. VA., topped the latest NAIA statistics in total defense, allowing only 60.5 yards a game. Westminster (Pa.) was third with a 92.6 mark.

TERRY CLANCY, son of former Pittsburgh Hornet coach "King" Clancy, is a forward on the California Seals, who invade the Civic Arena to face the Penguins tonight. "Baz" Bastien, who coached the Hornets last year and who was associated with Pittsburgh hockey for 20 years, is running the Detroit Red Wings from the bench this season. Detroit GM-coach Sid Abel is watching the games from the pressbox, a better viewpoint, and confers with Bastien between periods.

THE MID-AMERICAN Conference is the fastest-growing major football conference in the country in terms of attendance. So far this year the crowds at MAC clashes have averaged 16.5 per cent greater than a year ago. Every year since the conference went major the attendance gain has outstripped the national attendance gain. Toledo is leading this year's surge, with a 38.3 per cent increase. Kent State crowds are up 12.4 per cent and Ohio U.'s up 11.8 per cent.

THE BEST football team in Beaver County, according to ratings issued by the newspaper "Pittsburgh Sports Weekly," is Beaver. The Bobcats are rated 11th in Western Pennsylvania. New Brighton is rated 20th, while no AA teams in the county are in the top 20. New Castle leads the list, followed by Mt. Lebanon.

Toledo, W. Michigan, Miami In MAC Lead

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Okay sports fans, who do you like now to win the Mid-American Conference football title?

Let's review the situation.

Toledo—The Rockets are 3-1, have Kent at home this week and Miami on the road next in a bid for their first championship ever.

Miami—Perennial MAC champ has 3-1 record. The Skins play at Bowling Green this week and catch Toledo next in what could settle the title chase.

Western Michigan—The Broncos are tied for first with a 3-1 record and should boost it to 4-1 in a home encounter against winless Marshall. But Western must whip rugged Ohio University on the road Nov. 4.

Ohio U. — The Bobcats are 2-2 despite a fine campaign and only nurse slim hopes for a championship. No team with two losses has ever won the MAC crown. Ohio is outside the league this week against Dayton but has home games left with Western and Bowling Green.

Bowling Green—The Falcons, still alive mathematically on a 1-3 log, have Miami, Marshall and Ohio remaining.

Kent State (1-3) and Marshall (0-3)—Pass the tranquilizers.

Toledo and Miami seem to be in the best position since they have the momentum. Then again Western could take it all if it could get by Ohio.

The one thing all the contending coaches have to guard against is looking ahead.

On paper, anyway, Miami should have enough to overcome Bowling Green Saturday; Toledo has too many guns for battered Kent and a Dale Livingston field goal likely would be enough to down impotent Marshall.

Miami certainly has enough incentive against the Falcons. Last year, Bowling Green snapped Miami's 12-game winning streak in a 17-14 upset, the Skins' only setback fof the season.

Coach Bo Schembechler pulls no bones when he says:

"They ruined a perfect season for us last year and we aim to get even. If we can win our last two MAC games I think we will win the championship outright."

But Bowling Green, a pretty rough customer defensively, won't be easy.

"This will be the biggest game of the year for us," said Coach Bob Gibson. "We now have the confidence we can beat a good football team so we will be ready for Miami."

Gibson apparently feels last week's 7-6 decision over Kent has instilled new fight in his Falcons.

Up at Toledo, Coach Frank Lauterbur has the task of convincing his Rockets that Kent does care and is certainly formidable. Stumbling at this point would chill Toledo hopes.

Like to stab at picking the champion?

I like Toledo.

Alabama Expects Win In Clemson's Valley

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Football Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant considers one defeat a losing streak.

Tennessee defeated the Crimson Tide 24-13 Saturday and Alabama, the only team to finish in the top 10 every season since 1959, dropped from among the nation's elite.

"We certainly hope to get back to winning, and snap our losing streak," Bryant said today.

Perhaps he was remembering 1965 when the Tide lost to Georgia, was tied by Tennessee and yet won the national championship with a 39-28 victory over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

Florida State tied Alabama to begin this season and the Tide defeated Southern Mississippi, Mississippi and Vanderbilt before running into the determined Vols at Birmingham Saturday.

To snap the "losing streak" Saturday, Alabama will have to defeat Clemson in what Tiger Coach Frank Howard calls "Death Valley," Clemson's home stadium.

There's nothing that goes quite so well with cold beer as a hot streak. But sometimes both are difficult to come by.

It took St. Louis Coach Richie Guerin several minutes to get the beer because he couldn't find an opener in the Hawks' crowded dressing room at New York's Madison Square Garden.

It took his Hawks considerably longer to keep their streak hot, but they did—winning their seventh National Basuetball Association game in as many starts by outlasting the New York Knickerbockers 135-130 in overtime Tuesday night.

In other NBA action, Philadelphia drubbed Detroit 124-102 in a game preceding the Hawks-Knicks contest, San Francisco topped Cincinnati 116-106 and Baltimore whipped Seattle 136-125.

Kentucky edged Anaheim 28-27 and Minnesota trounced Pittsburgh 104-86 in the American Basketball Association.

The Hawks trailed 117-110 with three minutes remaining in regulation time. But then the Hawks took advantage of some sloppy New York play and charged to a 119-119 deadlock, the tying points coming on Paul Silas' field goal with 39 seconds left.

The Hawks thought they had won it 121-119 on Gene Tormohlen's final shot, but the officials ruled that he didn't get the shot off before the 24-second time limit had expired.

Howie Komives put the Knicks ahead 121-119 in over time, but then the Hawks reeled off 10 straight points and held off New York for the victory.

Hal Greer scored 38 points and Billy Cunningham 25 in leading the Philadelphia rout. Wilt Chamberlain scored only 11 for the 76ers, being content to lead both teams with 27 rebounds and his club with five assists, John Tresvant led Detroit with 9 points.

Baltimore built up a 22-point lead, but Seattle then rallied to cut it to two, 103-101, before the Bullets again pulled away. LeRoy Ells scored 26, rookie Earl Monroes 25 and Kevin Loughery 21 for Baltimore. Seattle was lead by Bob Rule's 25 and Wazt Hazzard's 21.

Jim King now in his fourth NBA season, had his best scoring game as pro, pouring through 37 points to lead San Francisco. Bob Love and Oscar Robertson carried the brunt of the Cincinnati attack—Love scoring 29 and Robertson 27.

Darrel Carrier's field goal with 35 seconds left climaxed a winning Kentucky rally. Carrier finished with 33 points, but individual scoring honors went to Anaheim's Steve Chubin, with 42.

Mel Daniel, Don Freeman and Les Hunter paced the third-perinesota to victory. Daniels ended with 21, Hunter 20 and Freeman 18. Connie Hawkins topped Pittsburgh with 19.

Irish, Trojans, Buffaloes, Vols, Wolfpack Selected

NEW YORK (AP) — Like the cost of living, a football forecaster's average sometimes goes out of sight. But there's a difference because the forecaster's figures always get smaller and smaller. Last week's average was .704.

The year's average is .713.

Here are this week's picks:

Southern California over Oregon: By sundown Saturday, Orange Juice Simpson will taste like bitter lemon to the Webfoots of Oregon.

Colorado over Oklahoma State: The Cowpokes are strong on defense but they never have encountered anyone who can puncture a line with the speed and efficiency of Wilmer Cooks, the 215-pound Buffalo fullback.

Tennessee over Louisiana State: If the Volunteers could beat Alabama last week with a third string quarterback, what will they do to LSU now that everyone is healthy?

North Carolina State over Duke: Dennis Byrd, a 250-pound tackle is in charge of the Wolfpack's defense. The friendliness of the home field also will help NC State remain unbeaten.

Notre Dame over Michigan State: A year ago this was the all-everything game but this time around there is a lot less glamor although the bumps and bruises will be as numerous as ever. You can watch from your own arm-chair.

Georgia over Kentucky: This season, Kentucky has lost five straight while yielding 140 points. Georgia has won four of five while punching over 151 points.

Purdue over Iowa: Mike Phipps, Purdue's sophomore quarterback is the nation's all-recovered a Bronco fumble and offense leader.

Wyoming over Arizona State: The game is being played in the Sun Devils' stadium but that won't help them any.

Houston over Mississippi: The margin of victory could be as thin as a point after touchdown.

Indiana over Arizona: The Hoosiers travel a great distance for their sixth triumph of the season but the journey home will be a happy one.

Syracuse over Penn State: Neither team has a pass attack and you can't run against that Syracuse line.

Alabama over Clemson: The Crimson Tide gets revenge for its upset defeat of last week.

Harvard over Dartmouth: The passing of Ric Zimmerman will decide.

John Unitas Takes Over As NFL's Top Passer

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts has taken over as top passer in the National Football League's weekly statistics but he would trade it all for victories instead of ties in the last two games.

Unitas has been breaking records each week. The latest was the mark for career completions, previously held by Y.A. Tittle. The 20 completions in Sunday's 20-20 tie with Minnesota gave him 2,131 for his lifetime total, compared to Tittle's 2,117.

The involved standings give Unitas the lead on a combination of a 60.1 completion percentage, 10 touchdowns, 2.9 interception percentage and 8.14 yards average gain.

Norm Snead of Philadelphia, last week's leaders, dropped to third and Sonny Jurgensen of Washington moved into the No. 2 spot.

Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, heading for his second straight 1,000-plus yard season, has 516 yards for six games, counting the 111 on 18 carries Sunday against Chicago. Johnny Roland of St. Louis is second with 459 yards, picking up 71 yards on 17 attempts against Philadelphia.

Jim Bakken, St. Louis' place kicker, continues to pull away in the scoring department with 70 points on 17 field goals and 19 extra points. His closest competitor is Homer Jones, New York's split end who has scored nine touchdowns or 54 points.

Jones is ninth among the pass receivers, but his 28.4-yard average and eight touchdowns are tops. Charley Taylor of Washington has caught the most passes, 35.

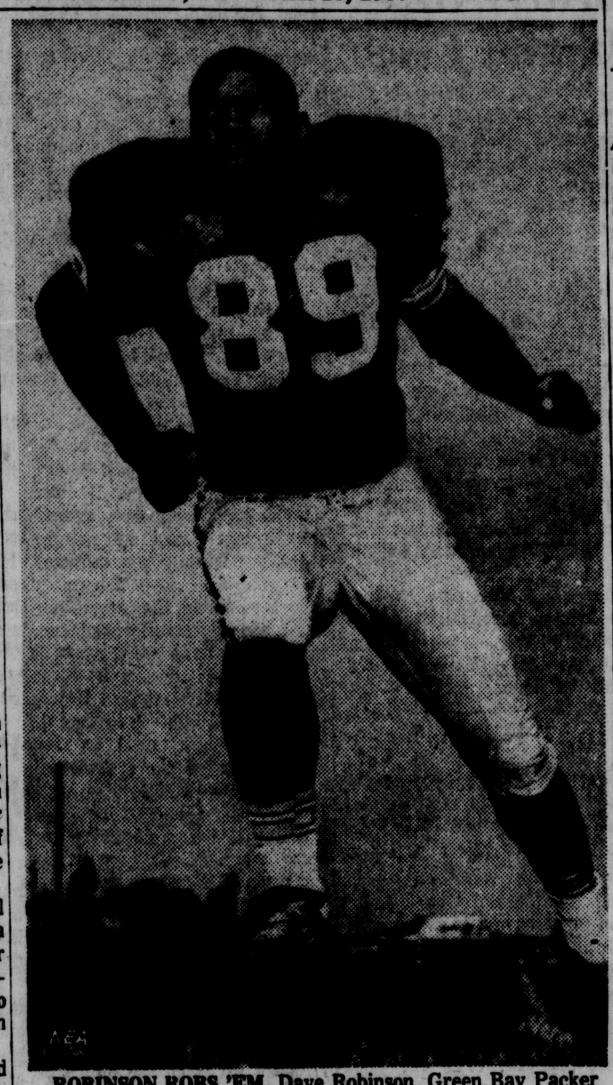

Pat Studstil on Detroit still leads the punters with a 45.4 yard average.

Donny Anderson of Green Bay has the best punt return average, 13.7, and John Love of Washington has the best kickoff return average, 39.0 yards.

Marv Woodson of Pittsburgh still has the most interceptions, five.

Placed On Waivers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mike Current, a rookie tackle from Ohio State, was placed on waivers Tuesday by the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League.

ROBINSON ROBS 'EM. Dave Robinson, Green Bay Packer linebacker from Penn State, was named NFL defensive player of the week after two spectacular interceptions against the New York Giants last week.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Green Bay's Robinson Week's Defensive Player

NEW YORK (AP) — If Dave Robinson doesn't make all-league linebacker this season, there will be eyebrows raised around the National Football League.

Robinson, a 6-foot-3, 245-pound hunk of man who plays left linebacker for the Green Bay Packers, is the Defensive Player of the Week in the NFL according to The Associated Press.

The man who pressured Don Meredith into an interception in the closing seconds of last season's Green Bay-Dallas title game, put on a show for the New York Giants last week at Yankee Stadium.

Within a space of about two minutes in the third period, Robinson intercepted two of Fran Tarkenton's passes. The first came on a ball that bounced out of the hands of Joe Morrison on New York's 26. A clipping penalty forced the Packers so deep they had to give up the ball. The second came on the Giants' 18, leading directly to a field goal by Don Chandler.

Leaping into the air to grab Tarkenton's toss with one hand, Robinson made his second interception one of the most spectacular defensive plays of the season.

"That was as fine a defensive play as you'll ever see," commented Coach Allie Sherman of the Giants, who still was in the ball game, losing only 17-14 at the time. The final score was 48-21.

Klembara, Campbell Out For Year

Beaver Local football fans suffered a rude jolt when it was learned that star quarterback Dennis Klembara and ace end Rex Campbell, who have formed one of the top passing combinations in the area, will be out for the rest of the season due to injuries suffered in the Lisbon game.

Campbell, who missed the early part of the season due to a separated right shoulder, separated his left shoulder. Klembara tore a muscle loose from the bone in his leg when he collided with Bill Farmer of Lisbon. Farmer suffered a possible concussion and Klembara was operated on today in Rochester General Hospital.

The Beavers, who face Souther Local Saturday in their last home game of the year, are trying three untested players at quarterback. They are sophomore Bruce Diddle, a cousin of East Liverpool quarterback Earl Diddle; junior Dave Doak, who has been a standout at defensive halfback, and junior Gary Klembara, brother of the injured Dennis.

It is hoped that Campbell, who is also a basketball standout, will be ready by the beginning of basketball season, and that Klembara will be back in action by January.

Pipers Lose Home Opener

Mikan Affirms ABA Solidarity

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The American Basketball Association is only a couple of weeks off the ground, but Commissioner George Mikan talks as if the battle for survival is already won.

"I'm very optimistic," Mikan says. "We've talked to a lot of people about a television contract and we'll have one.

"Attendance and interest has been good around the league, and the distribution of talent has been good."

Mikan was in Pittsburgh for the Pipers' home opener Tuesday night against the Minnesota Muskies, won by Minnesota 104-86 with a third-period surge.

"The calibre of play has been excellent," he said. "I think they need a little more game experience, but then the play is a little ragged even in the NBA this early in the year. We've got quite a group of great college players in this league. Just give them a little more time playing together."

Mikan said he expects to sign a television contract calling for weekly games starting in January.

"We don't need it before then" he said, pointing out that football occupies most of the weekend television sports time.

Some 5,719 turned out to see the Pipers' home opener, which was close before Minnesota launched a 27-9 surge in the third quarter. Pittsburgh's errant shooting and sloppy ball-handling contributed to the Muskies' pull-away.

Coach Vince Cazzetta of the Pipers said he was pleased with the crowd and its enthusiasm. He admitted they didn't have much to cheer about.

"We didn't do anything to get them excited," he said. "But I thought it was a pretty good crowd. We should have had this game last night and played last night's game tonight."

He was referring to the Pipers' 110-107 season-opening victory over the New Jersey Americans at Teaneck, N.J., Monday night.

Both sides were guilty of many turnovers — the ABA has had an unusually high rate of errors in early games — but neither Cazzetta nor Coach Jim Pollard of Minnesota blamed it on the ABA's own, original red-white-and blue basketball.

"I don't think the ball had anything to do with it," Cazzetta said. "Our passing just wasn't sharp."

Said Pollard: I don't think the ball causes turnovers. I think it's a crutch they're falling down on. You have a good game without many turnovers and you forget all about the ball."

Mel Daniels led the Muskies with 21 points. Les Hunter scored 20, Don Freeman 18 and Ron Perry 16. Connie Hawkins scored 19, Craig Dill and Chico Vaughn 15 each for Pittsburgh. Tom Washington of the Pipers was high with 15 rebounds.

Tennessee's Dorsey Top Defensive Player

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee's strategy against Alabama was to stop the Crimson Tide running attack and force quarterback Kenny Stabler to throw.

The strategy worked, giving the Volunteers a 24-13 victory, boosting them from seventh to fourth in The Associated Press football poll and bringing Back of the Week honors to defensive back Albert Dorsey.

Saturday was Dorsey's 22nd birthday and he celebrated by intercepting three Stazler passes, the last of which he ran back 31 yards for a touchdown. Two other Stabler tosses were picked off by Vol defenders.

Both Tennessee Coach Doug Dickey and Alabama Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant called Dorsey's thefts key plays in Tennessee's triumph.

"Coach Dickey teaches us that you have to stop your opponent before you can beat him," Dorsey said. "It was part of my job to stop Alabama and I was certainly happy I could help.

"The touchdown I scred against Alabama was my first and it certainly was the biggest thrill of my life."

Dorsey said he was thankful for platoon football.

"I'm too small (5-foot-11 and 178 pounds) to play offensive football," he explained. "I don't suppose I'd get to play if we didn't have a defensive team."

Let's review the situation.

Toledo—The Rockets are 3-1, have Kent at home this week and Miami on the road next in a bid for their first championship ever.

Miami—Perennial MAC champ has 3-1 record. The Skins play at Bowling Green this week and catch Toledo next in what could settle the title chase.

Western Michigan—The Broncos are tied for first with a 3-1 record and should boost it to 4-1 in a home encounter against winless Marshall. But Western must whip rugged Ohio University on the road Nov. 4.

Ohio U. — The Bobcats are 2-2 despite a fine campaign and only nurse slim hopes for a championship. No team with two losses has ever won the MAC crown. Ohio is outside the league this week against Dayton but has home games left with Western and Bowling Green.

Bowling Green—The Falcons, still alive mathematically on a 1-2 log, have Miami, Marshall and Ohio remaining.

Kent State (1-3) and Marshall (0-3)—Pass the tranquilizers.

Toledo and Miami seem to be in the best position since they have the momentum. Then again Western could take it all if it could get by Ohio.

The one thing all the contending coaches have to guard against is looking ahead.

On paper, anyway, Miami should have enough to overcome Bowling Green Saturday; Toledo has too many guns for battered Kent and a Dale Livingston field goal likely would be enough to down impotent Marshall.

Miami certainly has enough incentive against the Falcons. Last year, Bowling Green snapped Miami's 12-game winning streak in a 17-14 upset, the Skins' only setback fof the season.

Coach Bo Schembechler pulls no bones when he says:

"They ruined a perfect season for us last year and we aim to get even. If we can win our last two MAC games I think we will win the championship outright."

But Bowling Green, a pretty rough customer defensively, won't be easy.

"This will be the biggest game of the year for us," said Coach Bob Gibson. "We now have the confidence we can beat a good football team so we will be ready for Miami."

Gibson apparently feels last week's 7-6 decision over Kent has instilled new fight in his Falcons.

Up at Toledo, Coach Frank Lauterbur has the task of convincing his Rockets that Kent does care and is certainly formidable. Stumbling at this point would chill Toledo hopes.

Like to stab at picking the champion?

I like Toledo.

John Unitas Takes Over As NFL's Top Passer

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts has taken over as top passer in the National Football League's weekly statistics but he would trade it all for victories instead of ties in the last two games.

Unitas has been breaking records each week. The latest was the mark for career completions, previously held by Y.A. Tittle. The 20 completions in Sunday's 20-20 tie with Minnesota gave him 2,131 for his liftime total, compared to Tittle's 2,117.

The involved standings give Unitas the lead on a combination of a 60.1 completion percentage, 10 touchdowns, 2.9 interception percentage and 8.14 yards average gain.

Norm Snead of Philadelphia, last week's leaders, dropped to third and Sonny Jurgensen of Washington moved into the No. 2 spot.

Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, heading for his second straight 1,000-plus yard season, has 516 yards for six games, counting the 111 on 18 carries Sunday against Chicago. Johnny Roland of St. Louis is second with 459 yards, picking up 71 yards on 17 attempts against Philadelphia.

Jim Bakken, St. Louis' place kicker, continues to pull away in the scoring department with 70 points on 17 field goals and 19 extra points. His closest competitor is Homer Jones, New York's split end who has scored nine touchdowns or 54 points.

Jones is ninth among the pass receivers, but his 28.4-yard average and eight touchdowns are tops. Charley Taylor of Washington has caught the most passes, 35.

Pat Studstil on Detroit still leads the punters with a 45.4 yard average.

Donny Anderson of Green Bay has the best punt return average, 13.7, and John Love of Washington has the best kickoff return average, 39.0 yards.

Marv Woodson of Pittsburgh still has the most interceptions, five.

Placed On Waivers

Klembara, Campbell Out For Year

Beaver Local football fans suffered a rude jolt when it was learned that star quarterback Dennis Klembara and ace end Rex Campbell, who have formed one of the top passing combinations in the area, will be out for the rest of the season due to injuries suffered in the Lisbon game.

Campbell, who missed the early part of the season due to a separated right shoulder, separated his left shoulder. Klembara tore a muscle loose from the bone in his leg when he collided with Bill Farmer of Lisbon. Farmer suffered a possible concussion and Klembara was operated on today in Rochester General Hospital.

The Beavers, who face Souther Local Saturday in their last home game of the year, are trying three untested players at quarterback. They are sophomore Bruce Diddle, a cousin of East Liverpool quarterback Earl Diddle; junior Dave Doak, who has been a standout at defensive halfback, and junior Gary Klembara, brother of the injured Dennis.

It is hoped that Campbell, who is also a basketball standout, will be ready by the beginning of basketball season, and that Klembara will be back in action by January.

Alabama Expects Win In Clemson's Valley

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Football Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant considers one defeat a losing streak.

Tennessee defeated the Crimson Tide 24-13 Saturday and Alabama, the only team to finish in the top 10 every season since 1959, dropped from among the nation's elite.

"We certainly hope to get back to winning, and snap our losing streak," Bryant said today.

Perhaps he was remembering 1965 when the Tide lost to Georgia, was tied by Tennessee and yet won the national championship with a 39-28 victory over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

Florida State tied Alabama to begin this season and the Tide defeated Southern Mississippi, Mississippi and Vanderbilt before running into the determined Vols at Birmingham Saturday.

To snap the "losing streak" Saturday, Alabama will have to defeat Clemson in what Tiger Coach Frank Howard calls "Death Valley," Clemson's home stadium.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Al Moore of Miami, who raced 73 yards for the winning touchdown against Ohio University last Saturday, is the Mid-American Conference Back of the Week.

Lineman of the Week honors go to Paul Elzey, a linebacker from Toledo who was outstanding in a 35-9 romp over Western Michigan.

Moore carried the ball 36 times for 232 yards as Miami rallied to whip the Bobcats, 22-15.

Elzey made 11 solo tackles and assisted on eight others, recovered a Bgonco fumble and intercepted a pass.

Other linemen nominated were Paul Jordan, Kent State; Dennis Parkeg, Marshall; Dave Tsaloff, Miami, and Bob Beach, Ohio.

Other backs mentioned were Garland Wilson, Kent; Claude Smith, Marshall, and Roland Moss, Toledo.

To Miss Notre Dame Game

6 Spartans Suspended

By BOB VOGES

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University, which has been having its troubles on the football field this year, ran into more problems today when officials confirmed that six players had been disciplined and would not play against Notre Dame this Saturday.

Head Coach Duffy Daugherty said all six would not make the trip to South Bend, Ind., because they were out after regular curfew hours following last Saturday's 21-0 loss to Minnesota.

The players were late returning to their MSU dormitory after the team returned to East Lansing.

Four of the regulars had been listed as scheduled to play with the first team against Notre Dame. Two were on the second team.

Daugherty confirmed the suspensions, but refused to say how long the players would be barred from playing, indicating it depended on individual attitudes.

Michigan State already had been hard hit by injuries suffered in the loss to Minnesota. Quarterback Jimmy Raye, top end Al Brenner and first string guard Tony Conti were listed as doubtful starters because of injuries.

The suspension of six regulars was bound to make Notre Dame even more of a top-heavy favorite in the televised game Saturday.

Daugherty refused to name the players dropped. However, the Michigan State News, the college newspaper, listed four of the players in a copyrighted story. Names of the other two were not disclosed.

U.S. Coaches Complain About Diving Officiating

By STRATFORD C. JONES

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Divers need good officials and they don't have them here during the Pre - Olympic Games, U.S. coaches maintain.

Dick Smith, U.S. men's Olympic coach from Phoenix, Ariz., and Hobie Billingsley, women's coach from Indiana University, told a newsmen Tuesday after the 10-meter platform finals in which the Americans were beaten, that not just Mexico was at fault. And Smith made it clear his comment was not just a "sour grapes."

Keith Russell of Mesa, Ariz., and a protege of Smith's since the age of nine, took a silver medal on the strength of his last two dives, one of which won 24.65 points — the highest of all point scores awarded.

At 164.70, Russell trailed gold medalist Claudio DiBiasi of Italy, who had 168.46. Third was Vaske Arimetsu of Japan, 163.71.

And in women's competition, Patty Simms of Arcadia, Calif., placed third with 101.46, behind winner Galina Alexeeca of Russia, with 111.37 and Keilo Osakid, Japan, with 103.06.

"There was a great contest here between the divers, but their actions were not reflected by the scores of the judges," Smith said. "I've been around diving as long as anybody sitting here today and if this is a indication of judging in world competition, everyone should take steps to clean up judging."

Billingsley faulted the composition of the judging panel, as did Smith. "There were five Mexican judges, one East German and a Russian, he said.

"And the East German and the Russian were actively coaching the divers they had entered," Smith said.

Miss Alexeeva was the only Russian entered, and the only East German, Lothar Mathes, wound up fourth in the men's event with 162.28.

Both coaches said they felt the contestants finished in the right order and that the best won. Although Russell was the only U.S. male diver, Billingsley did not fault the fourth and fifth-place finishes of Air Force Lt. Micki King of Ann Arbor, Mich. with 98.05 points and Cynthia Potter, Houston, Tex., with 96.35. Both had an off day.

"But it's just not fair for youngsters who work so hard to be misgraded," Smith said.

Miss Alexeeva's victory gave the Soviet Union 22 gold medals and was one of only four golds awarded Tuesday. DiBiasi's win put Italy second in gold medals with nine while West Germany's Konrad Wirnhier won a gold medal in skeet shooting. Hungary was first in women's team foil fencing.

Today's program included 12 finals, five of them in swimming's first day of competition which the United States is expected to dominate.

Light-Heavy Foster Takes Risk Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bobby Foster, with apparently nothing to gain but a possible quick trip to obscurity, puts his championship hopes on the line tonight when he meets unranked Levan Roundtree in a 10-round light - heavyweight match at D. C. Stadium.

Foster, ranked No. 2 in the division by Ring Magazine, has been promised a title match with the winner of the Nov. 17 championship fight between Dick Tiger and Roger Rouse.

It would appear that Foster is taking an unnecessary risk in fighting Roundtree but he is confident he can handle the New Yorker who has won 12 and lost only two.

"I had to fight somebody," said Foster, who has won 26 and lost four. "I can't just sit and wait for Rouse and Tiger. By that time, I'll be stale."

Tulsa Leads Offensive Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — Tulsa's unbeaten and untied football team continues to lead the nation's major college's in total offense, passing and scoring while Oklahoma sets the pace in rushing.

The Golden Hurricane has averaged 484.8 yards in total offense for four games, 350.8 yards in passing, a 46.0 points per game, according to official statistics released today by the NCAA's National Collegiate Sports Services.

On rushing, Oklahoma moved past UCLA's leaders with a 284.0 yards average for four games. Yale was second with 262.3 while UCLA slipped to third with 258.0.

The individual leaders, announced Tuesday, are Mike Phipps, Purdue, total offense, 1,243 yards; O. J. Simpson, Southern California, rushing, 987 yards, and Jimmy Poole, Davidson, passing, 102 completions. He has passed 173 times for .590 and 1,063 yards.

OU SOPH. Larry Spires, two-time all-state tackle at Stanton Local, is playing football as a sophomore at Ohio U. Spires is a defensive left tackle for the Bobcats.

Browns' Job To Contain Tarkenton

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ever try to nail syrup to the wall?

That's about what the job of containing New York Giants' quarterback Fran Tarkenton is like.

"He starts to the right around end, stops and retreats, and the man coming for him loses the angle," Cleveland Browns' Coach Blanton Collier said Tuesday.

"It's his second move that destroys you. He has the knack of making a man commit himself. He seems to do it by instinct."

Collier is concerned about Tarkenton's backfield wandering because the Browns play the Giants in New York Sunday.

"A lot of people talk about containing Tarkenton," Collier added. "It's hard to do. He is master at moving receivers, getting them to react to him."

The Browns and St. Louis Cardinals are tied (4-2) for first place in the National Football League's Century Division and Cleveland can take over the top spot with a victory—at least for one day. The Cardinals face Green Bay next Monday night.

It was Tarkenton's maneuvering that gave the Packers fits last Sunday. New York had a 14-10 halftime lead until Bart Starr started to click and the Packers pulled away in the second half to win, 48-21.

No Russians Entering World Cup Golf Play

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Soviet athletes swept event after event in Mexico's P-Olympic Games but they won't be any competition next month during the World Cup golf tournament.

The Russians don't play golf.

"We'd like them to start and get in some of these international tournaments," said Fred Corcoran of New York, tournament director for the International Golf Association (IGA). "But we took a survey and found out they don't even have a golf course."

Corcoran said a course was built in the Soviet Union during the presidency of Ewight Eisenhower in anticipation of a visit by the U.S. president to the Soviet Union.

"We're told that it never was used and has grown up in weeds," said the man who will supervise the World Cup tournament Nov. 9-12 at the Club de Golf Mexico.

The absence of the Soviet Union, however, distracts not a bit from the tournament which is larger this year than ever before.

The World Cup, formerly called the Canada Cup, pits the two best professional golfers a country has against the best from other nations in a 72-hole battle of international pride and prestige.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, generally agreed to be the two best professionals in the world, will represent the United States. Palmer has been on five winning teams but never has won individual honors. The U.S. is the defending champ.

Other top golfers entered are Gary Player of South Africa, Bob Charles of New Zealand and Roberto deVicenzo of Argentina.

"We're told that it never was used and has grown up in weeds," said the man who will supervise the World Cup tournament Nov. 9-12 at the Club de Golf Mexico.

The absence of the Soviet Union, however, distracts not a bit from the tournament which is larger this year than ever before.

The World Cup, formerly called the Canada Cup, pits the two best professional golfers a country has against the best from other nations in a 72-hole battle of international pride and prestige.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, generally agreed to be the two best professionals in the world, will represent the United States. Palmer has been on five winning teams but never has won individual honors. The U.S. is the defending champ.

Other top golfers entered are Gary Player of South Africa, Bob Charles of New Zealand and Roberto deVicenzo of Argentina.

Earl Diddle Regains Total Offense Lead

Despite playing only about half the Martins Ferry game, Earl Diddle regained the lead in total offense for the East Liverpool Potters.

Diddle rushed for 29 yards in four carries and hit 2 of 7 passes for 64 yards. Sam Scott, who had wrested the lead from Diddle the week before, was held to just two yards in five carries. He maintains a comfortable lead in rushing, however.

Mike McVay took over the average lead in kickoff returns and Dan Cunningham the average lead in punt returns.

Earl Diddle Regains Total Offense Lead

Despite playing only about half the Martins Ferry game, Earl Diddle regained the lead in total offense for the East Liverpool Potters.

Diddle rushed for 29 yards in four carries and hit 2 of 7 passes for 64 yards. Sam Scott, who had wrested the lead from Diddle the week before, was held to just two yards in five carries. He maintains a comfortable lead in rushing, however.

Mike McVay took over the average lead in kickoff returns and Dan Cunningham the average lead in punt returns.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) —A severe chest cold today threatened to cancel Gov. Ronald Reagan's three-day trip to six cities, beginning with a GOP fund-raising address in Des Moines, Iowa, tonight.

Reagan, who returned to Sacramento Saturday night from the National Governors Conference, was so hoarse by the end of a 30-minute news conference Tuesday he had trouble talking.

Reagan's schedule called for him to lecture at Kansas State University in Manhattan Thursday, address Republican affairs in Dallas and Houston later the same day, speak to the Illinois Chamber of Commerce in Chicago Friday noon and address a Republican dinner in Cincinnati on Friday night.

EAST PALESTINE — The purchase of a new school bus, despite a $523 increase over the original bid, was approved by the East Palestine School District board of education Monday.

The increase in the price of the chassis as bid by the Brittain Motors firm was explained by officials of the firm as the difference between the 1967 and 1968 models.

The firm bid $4,271 last February on the chassis, but by the time the board received final approval in the state program, only 1968 models were available at a cost of $4,794.

The Myers Equipment Co. of Canfield, suppliers of the body at a cost of $3,132, said there would be no change in the price for the 66 - passenger vehicle. The state provides approximately 50 per cent of the funds.

Under an agreement with the Frigidaire Co. and the Columbiana Appliance Store, the board purchased new home economics equipment for the high school at a cost of $1,193. The equipment includes two refrigerators, a deep freezer, washer, dryer and portable dishwasher, with replacement each summer without cost and free service and parts.

Richmond Addresses Kiwanis

Chester Club Hears Talk On Savings, Loan History

A history of savings and loan institutions, including the Hancock County Federal Savings and Loan Association, was given during a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at City Hall.

The speaker was Robert Richmond, assistant treasurer of the institution. James Jordan was program chairman.

Richmond said building societies were established in England about 1775 and savings and loan associations as we know them in the U.S. about 1840 at Charleston, S. C.

He reported on the operation of the local savings and loan association, interest rates paid through the years and how it and other institutions have been affected by business trends, especially the great depression of 1929.

The first office of the local association was at 1st St. and Carolina Ave.

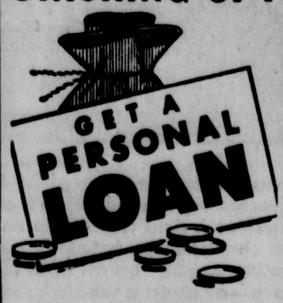

In 1905, he continued, the First National Bank of Chester began construction of a three - story brick building at the corner of 3rd and Carolina, the present location of Hancock County Federal. In 1907, the company moved in and shared the first floor office space with the bank and a grocery store.

In December 1932, Richmond said, the First National Bank went into receivership and Hancock County Federal purchased the building in 1934.

He said first - mortgage loans account for about 90 per cent of the total assets of the financial institution.

At one time during World War II National Service Life Insurance policies reached a total of about $140 billion, equaling the total life insurance then in force by all the private life insurance companies combined.

Reagan, who returned to Sacramento Saturday night from the National Governors Conference, was so hoarse by the end of a 30-minute news conference Tuesday he had trouble talking.

Reagan's schedule called for him to lecture at Kansas State University in Manhattan Thursday, address Republican affairs in Dallas and Houston later the same day, speak to the Illinois Chamber of Commerce in Chicago Friday noon and address a Republican dinner in Cincinnati on Friday night.

FOODLAND GIVES AWAY ONE STAMP THIS WEEK!

How come? Because several Tri-State food chains (including Foodland) are all claiming "lower prices". And that even confused us! Until we checked the totals. Any store can have "lower prices" on an item here and an item there—or even a whole group of items—and raise the prices on the rest to compensate. So the only true measure of "lower prices" is the total on your register tape. Which brings us to our big free offer: If you've never shopped Foodland before, try us this week. Load up on the weekly groceries then see if the bottom line on your checkout tape isn't a darn sight lower than at the store you've been shopping.
Then if you'll be so kind, write your report on a postcard available at any Foodland checkout. It's addressed to our headquarters—with a free stamp on it. And when Foodland gives away stamps (even one to a customer) you'd better run—not walk—to get yours!

Albert W. Congrove

Marks 90th Year

A Wellsville area man, celebrating his 90th birthday today, is proof that keeping active is an ingredient in the recipe of longevity.

Albert W. Congrove of 133 Kountz Ave., Wellsville, was born in Longbottom, (Meigs County) about 165 miles from here Oct. 25, 1877, a son of the late Sylvester Congrove and Emma Smith Congrove.

HE CAME to East Liverpool in 1901, after working on packet boats and also in a stone quarry near Longbottom. He became a stone mason, working for 65 years in quarries, including the former B. F. Hinton quarry on Sunnyside Ave. and for the International Pulp Stone Co., which sent him to sites in Hammondsville and Boone County, W. Va. He also quarried stone for the Rock Springs Park bridge at the time the park was purchased by the late C. A. Smith. It was at the Hammondsville site in 1928 that Mr. Congrove's right hand became caught in a chain while hoisting a large stone. His index finger and half of the small finger were amputated. A previous incident in 1904 at Mingo Junction has required him to use a cane ever since. He was at work when a load of timber was dragged over both legs during the building of a bridge.

From 1910 through 1917, Mr. Congrove served as second engineer at the former Lock 8, near Newell. He worked at one time on the Pittsburgh Wabash bridge (a railroad bridge) and helped in the rebuilding of the flint mill here following a fire.

Later, on his own, Mr. Congrove built two houses, one of which was "faced" with stone, and assisted relatives in building two other "stone" houses.

HE WAS married July 22, 1904, to the late Myrna Anne Ormsby Congrove. He has three daughters, Mrs. Alice M. Bowers of Summit Ln., Mrs. William (Edith) Brenneman of Tampa, Fla., and Mrs. Alta C. Smith, with whom he resides; two sons, Frank Congrove of Alliance and Leonard Congrove of Orlando, Fla.; eight grandchildren and six great - grandchildren. Several cousins also reside in this area.

MR. CONGROVE

For the past few years, Congrove has spent his winters in Florida with his children, coming to Ohio each spring in time for the planting season. He has a large garden wherever he is, but says, "there's nothing like Ohio soil for raising good tomatoes." This is the first winter he plans to spend in Ohio, "for a change of scenery."

Innocent Plea Given In Credit Card Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Jordan Dean, a 37-year-old Columbus probation officer, pleaded innocent Tuesday in municipal court to a charge of using a stolen credit card on a $1,000 spending spree.

Authorities said judges who appointed Mrs. Dean in 1966 were not aware that she had previously served reformatory terms for housebreaking and grand larceny.

Norstad Is Promoted By Fiberglas Firm

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Retired Gen. Lauris Norstad has been promoted to board chairman of Owens Corning Fiberglas, the firm announced Tuesday.

Former supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, Norstad had been president of Owens Corning since 1963. He replaces Harold Boeschenstein, who becomes chairman of the board's Executive Committee.

FOODLAND GIVES AWAY ONE STAMP THIS WEEK!

How come? Because several Tri-State food chains (including Foodland) are all claiming "lower prices". And that even confused us! Until we checked the totals. Any store can have "lower prices" on an item here and an item there—or even a whole group of items—and raise the prices on the rest to compensate. So the only true measure of "lower prices" is the total on your register tape. Which brings us to our big free offer: If you've never shopped Foodland before, try us this week. Load up on the weekly groceries then see if the bottom line on your checkout tape isn't a darn sight lower than at the store you've been shopping. Then' if you'll be so kind, write your report on a postcard available at any Foodland checkout. It's addressed to our headquarters—with a free stamp on it. And when Foodland gives away stamps (even one to a customer) you'd better run—not walk—to get yours!

Albert W. Congrove

Marks 90th Year

A Wellsville area man, celebrating his 90th birthday today, is proof that keeping active is an ingredient in the recipe of longevity.

Albert W. Congrove of 133 Kountz Ave., Wellsville, was born in Longbottom, (Meigs County) about 165 miles from here Oct. 25, 1877, a son of the late Sylvester Congrove and Emma Smith Congrove.

HE CAME to East Liverpool in 1901, after working on packet boats and also in a stone quarry near Longbottom. He became a stone mason, working for 65 years in quarries, including the former B. F. Hinton quarry on Sunnyside Ave. and for the International Pulp Stone Co., which sent him to sites in Hammondsville and Boone County, W. Va. He also quarried stone for the Rock Springs Park bridge at the time the park was purchased by the late C. A. Smith. It was at the Hammondsville site in 1928 that Mr. Congrove's right hand became caught in a chain while hoisting a large stone. His index finger and half of the small finger were amputated. A previous incident in 1904 at Mingo Junction has required him to use a cane ever since. He was at work when a load of timber was dragged over both legs during the building of a bridge.

From 1910 through 1917, Mr. Congrove served as second engineer at the former Lock 8, near Newell. He worked at one time on the Pittsburgh Wabash bridge (a railroad bridge) and helped in the rebuilding of the flint mill here following a fire.

Later, on his own, Mr. Congrove built two houses, one of which was "faced" with stone, and assisted relatives in building two other "stone" houses.

HE WAS married July 22, 1904, to the late Myrna Anne Ormsby Congrove. He has three daughters, Mrs. Alice M. Bowers of Summit Ln., Mrs. William (Edith) Brenneman of Tampa, Fla., and Mrs. Alta C. Smith, with whom he resides; two sons, Frank Congrove of Alliance and Leonard Congrove of Orlando, Fla.; eight grandchildren and six great - grandchildren. Several cousins also reside in this area.

MR. CONGROVE

For the past few years, Congrove has spent his winters in Florida with his children, coming to Ohio each spring in time for the planting season. He has a large garden wherever he is, but says, "there's nothing like Ohio soil for raising good tomatoes." This is the first winter he plans to spend in Ohio, "for a change of scenery."

Innocent Plea Given In Credit Card Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Jordan Dean, a 37-year-old Columbus probation officer, pleaded innocent Tuesday in municipal court to a charge of using a stolen credit card on a $1,000 spending spree.

Authorities said judges who appointed Mrs. Dean in 1966 were not aware that she had previously served reformatory terms for housebreaking and grand larceny.

Norstad Is Promoted By Fiberglas Firm

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Retired Gen. Lauris Norstad has been promoted to board chairman of Owens Corning Fiberglas, the firm announced Tuesday.

Former supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, Norstad had been president of Owens Corning since 1963. He replaces Harold Boeschenstein, who becomes chairman of the board's Executive Committee.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Do you find it hard to melt baking chocolate when making candy, icings, or cakes.

When I buy a bar of it, grate the whole bar on the smallest grater, then place it in a tightly sealed jar.

This way my grater has to be cleaned only once and the chocolate is ready for use any time. You'll be surprised how much time housewives will save if they use my method.

ANNA LEVERETTE.

Anna, I could just hug you. I love to cook old recipes from scratch and the only idea we have ever had before for melting so many ounces of chocolate, was to line the inside of a pan with foil and put the chocolate in there.

This keeps you from cleaning out the pan, but your idea tops them all.

May the Lord bless you always.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Most wall-type bathroom heaters have only two or three little bars across the front to protect clothes from catching fire. But with the flimsy gowns of today, it is not enough.

To correct this, remove the front panel of the heater and fit some heavy wire screen across the metal frame. Replace the panel and punch one SMALL hole in the screen to insert the match for lighting. On some heaters, the screen can be molded to fit on the outside of the protecting panel.

The same idea applies to some panel ray-type heaters.

Being a doctor's daughter, I have seen too many people burned when this inexpensive method could have prevented such horror.

BETSY LEES.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Don't worry about being fat until ypu have to put on a girdle to get into a housecoat . . .

MISS K.S.

DEAR HELOISE: Years ago when I took my child out for Hallowe'en I used a paper bag for the treats. Before she completed her tricks-and-treating, her paper bag was torn and the goodies were dropping out.

Since then I made her a bag from leftover pieces of material I had from one of her dresses. This cloth bag will last for years and she loves it.

MRS. ROE ROSE.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever try wearing those rubber gloves with the roughened palms when giving heavily soiled spots in clothing that extra hand-scrubbing before tossing them in the washer?

It's better than a washboard and easy on both the hands and the clothes. Give it a try!

LOIS L. McGREGOR.

DEAR HELOISE: I love to sew, but marking darts is a task I don't find easy. After using a pattern a few times it's always torn.

Just make small holes in the pattern where the darts should be and stick on a reinforcement — the type used to reinforce notebook paper — then mark a dot with chalk through the hole onto the material.

Now when I start to sew in the darts it is really easy to see exactly where they should be and my patterns are no longer torn.

M. SCHUPBACH.

That's what I call a sticky idea, hon.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband and I write quite a few letters to our boys overseas and we've found a way to give each letter a little added zing . . .

We cut a few panels of their favorite comic strips and put them in with each letter. The boys not only get joy from our letters but also a few laughs from them as well . . . and they love them!

Knox School Rd. Taken As Part Of County's System

LISBON — County commissioners voted Monday to take Knox Township Rd. 707 (Knox School Rd.) into the county highway system effective Nov. 30.

Road 707 runs from County Road 400 (North Georgetown-Homeworth Rd.) northward 4.5 miles to U.S. Route 62. It is an extension of Country Rd. 403 which begins at the junction of 402 and 403 in West Township and runs north about six miles to County Rd. 400.

John Ursu, county engineer, said the new addition will be known as County Rd. 403. The county has two improvement projects under way on Knox School Rd.

Commissioners awarded a contract for a 1968 suburban truck for the engineer to Wilbur L. Coy, Salem, on a low bid of $2,599 including trade - in of a 1958 station wagon. Four other bids ranged from $2,649 to $2,769.

The county paid W. E. Quicksall & Associates, New Philadelphia, $3,455 for services rendered to Sept. 30 in connection with preparing final design plans for Lisbon water supply project of the County Water & Sewer District 2.

Description Spurs Hunt In Club Holdup

The Hancock County sheriff's office said today it has the description of a suspect in a $60 holdup Monday night at an area club.

Deputies, who held the report until Tuesday afternoon as they conducted an investigation and kept at least one man under surveillance, said a gunman entered the Clover Club on Route 2 about 11:40 and robbed bartender - manager John Dawson.

Dawson said the man came inside, ordered a beer, got up and left and then came back inside brandishing a .38-caliber snub-nose pistol.

He pointed it at Dawson, yelled at him to backup, jumped over the bar and took the money — $50 in ones and a $10 bill — from the register.

Ordring Dawson not to move, the thief backed out the door of the bar and fled, apparently on foot. There was only one other patron inside at the time of the robbery.

Mothers To End Their Picketing Pending Petition

LISBON — After another appearance Tuesday, "Mothers on the Move" have announced they will discontinue picketing the Courthouse here to await the outcome of a petition to Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The group, led by Mrs. Inez Pearson Mason of 145 W. 4th St., East Liverpool, began picketing Sept. 29 in an effort "to obtain full and complete support payments regularly as provided by law."

The petition is being circulated in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salineville, Salem and Leetonia and has approximately 900 signatures, Mrs. Mason said. A delegation will present it to the governor at Columbus.

Mrs. Mason said 12 mothers turned out yesterday "to demonstrate that more mothers can be mustered, if necessary."

Suspension, Fine And Jail Ordered In Driving Case

LISBON — Judge J. L. MacDonald of Columbiana County Southwest Court suspended the driver's license of Emerson Locke of East Rochester for three months Tuesday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The court also fined Locke $150 and costs and sentenced him to five days in the County Jail. Locke pleaded guilty to the added charge of being found in a state of intoxication, but was assessed costs of $5 only on that count.

Judge MacDonald issued a bench warrant for the arrest of Richard A. Brown of Lisbon RD 5, who forfeited a $50 bond Tuesday when he failed to appear for a hearing on a reckless operation charge.

Mrs. Helen Zackman of Freedom screened slides of the dystrophy summer camp at Stroudsburg. Miss Paparella served as narrator.

Mrs. John Tolerico of Freedom conducted business in the absence of the president. On behalf of the society, she presented a check to Mrs. Paparella for the association. Mrs. Tolerico announced that cookies will be taken to the Beaver County Home and Hospital by the society as a Thanksgiving treat for patients. Radio Officer Suspended

Gov. Reagan Credits Luck On Intercepting Message

NEW YORK (AP) — California Gov. Ronald Reagan credits luck and accident for his interception at sea of a White House radiogram—but the break may have been a bad one for the chief radio officer of the SS Independence.

Ship's Capt. Charles E. Reilly announced Tuesday the head man in the radio shack has been suspended pending completion of an investigation of the affair by American Export-Isbrandtsen Lines.

Commenting on the suspension, Reagan said later: "It's shocking. It was so obviously easy for a mistake of this kind to happen. I know for a fact that it happened with other messages. This action smacks of persecution. This is the Great Society at its benevolent best."

Reilly said Chief Raido Operator Charles Berger was one of three men in the radio shack when the White House message arrived, one week ago.

The message, addressed to former Texas Gov. Price Daniel, was one of instruction on tactics to deal with Republican governors who later blocked an endorsement of President Johnson's Vietnam war policy by the floating 59th National Governors Conference.

Reagan got a copy and made it public. In Sacramento, Calif. Reagan said it was sheer accident, and denied that any member of his party had a part in obtaining the message.

"I did not intercept someone else's mail," Reagan added. "I did not read someone else's mail knowingly." He said he never tried to find out how the message got to him.

"Why should I inquire into my luck?" Reagan said.

Reilly announced suspension of the radio operator after the Independence docked in New York, with 26 governors still aboard. Others, Reagan among them, had flown home earlier from the Virgin Islands.

It ended an eight-day governors' voyage that blended politics with tourism in the Caribbean sun.

The Reagan-radiogram affair added a dash of political intrigue. Just how the message strayed remained a mystery.

Humphrey Supporting Tate In Philadelephia Mayor Race

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —With the knowledge that Democrats will need a strong Philadelphia showing in the 1968 presidential campaign, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has given a rousing endorsement to Mayor James H. J. Tate for reelection.

Tate has become a "leader in a great national struggle for a better America," Humphrey told a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner Tuesday night.

Tate is locked in a heated campaign with Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter, the Republican mayoral candidate. A Tate victory would increase the chances of a good Democratic showing in 1968, in a city that gave large majorities to the late President Kennedy and President Johnson.

The vice president told the more than 4,000 Democratic workers and city employes that Tate is a "scrapper, worker, and my kind of a mayor ... who loves his city and never ceases to work for it."

Two hours before Humphrey's scheduled arrival at the Philadelphia Civic Center, 250 anti-war pickets showed up with signs, but were held back by police barricades placed along the sidewalk.

The demonstrators — mostly college age — marched in a semi-circle which stretched about 200 feet along the sidewalk. There were no incidents, as police stood on the other side of the barricades.

Humphrey never confronted the pickets.

Absent from the dinner was Democratic City Chairman Francis R. Smith, whose ouster by Tate forces was reversed Tuesday by a three-judge court. The feud between Tate and Smith has split the Democratic Party in the city.

In addition to Humphrey, U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Rep. William A. Barrett also spoke in behalf of Tate.

Radio Officer Suspended

Gov. Reagan Credits Luck On Intercepting Message

NEW YORK (AP) — California Gov. Ronald Reagan credits luck and accident for his interception at sea of a White House radiogram—but the break may have been a bad one for the chief radio officer of the SS Independence.

Ship's Capt. Charles E. Reilly announced Tuesday the head man in the radio shack has been suspended pending completion of an investigation of the affair by American Export-Isbrandtsen Lines.

Commenting on the suspension, Reagan said later: "It's shocking. It was so obviously easy for a mistake of this kind to happen. I know for a fact that it happened with other messages. This action smacks of persecution. This is the Great Society at its benevolent best."

Reilly said Chief Raido Operator Charles Berger was one of three men in the radio shack when the White House message arrived, one week ago.

The message, addressed to former Texas Gov. Price Daniel, was one of instruction on tactics to deal with Republican governors who later blocked an endorsement of President Johnson's Vietnam war policy by the floating 59th National Governors Conference.

Reagan got a copy and made it public. In Sacramento, Calif. Reagan said it was sheer accident, and denied that any member of his party had a part in obtaining the message.

"I did not intercept someone else's mail," Reagan added. "I did not read someone else's mail knowingly." He said he never tried to find out how the message got to him.

"Why should I inquire into my luck?" Reagan said.

Reilly announced suspension of the radio operator after the Independence docked in New York, with 26 governors still aboard. Others, Reagan among them, had flown home earlier from the Virgin Islands.

It ended an eight-day governors' voyage that blended politics with tourism in the Caribbean sun.

Sheriff Says Slain Man In Debt To Race Bookies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County Sheriff James J. McGettrick says he has learned that George A. Westrich Jr., found slain in his car in suburban Independence Tuesday, was heavily in debt to horse race bookies.

McGettrick said he learned the 32-year-old Macedonia man owed some $8,500 on horse race bets.

Westrich was a race track buff and a onetime horse owner, but one track habitue remarked that he "hung around with a bad bunch."

A neighbor noted that he kept "odd hours" and that "quite a strange looking crowd of men were always around.

He also had been in trouble with the law recently, was caught by police during an alleged jewelry store burglary in Akron and was under federal indictment on stolen money order charges in Las Vegas, Nev.

Monday night at 9 p.m. Westrich walked out of the house where he and his wife and three children lived and drove off in his 1967 Thunderbird without saying where he was going.

This was the last time his family saw him alive.

Tuesday morning the car was found abandoned in the driveway at the home of a retired businessman in suburban Independence. Westrich's body was between the bucket seats, his feet in the rear and his head in front. He had been shot in the back and in the back of the head.

Westrich was indicted Oct. 17 along with William M. and Mildred Rooney of Cleveland in Las Vegas on charges of transporting stolen money orders, and all three were free on bond.

Westrich and Rooney also were arrested Aug. 5 at Akron, where police said they were caught at 4:20 a.m. inside the Bancroft Jewelry Store in the Mayflower Hotel. Three men were caught in the store, allegedly with $7,000 loot in their pockets, and they were working on the safe when spotted, police said.

The third man arrested there was Salvatore R. Carcione, 21, Northfield.

Police said the shooting apparently occurred elsewhere and the car then was driven to the place where it was found. Independence is five miles northwest of Macedonia.

Westrich formerly owned a race horse but sold it after he was suspended at Thistledown Race Track in September. Track stewards said he had falsified his owner's license by not including his criminal record.

Enough Evidence Seen For Trial In Girl's Death

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—The Bayamon District Court Tuesday determined there is enough evidence to bring to trial a fisherman for the death of 18-year-old Ohio college student Susan Fussell.

Miss Fussell's charred body was found last Sept. 6 among the debris in a burned house on the Cerro Gordo beach resort near the town of Vega Baja, west of San Juan.

The next day, Esteban Cruz Rosario, 48, fisherman and also a caretaker of the beach house, was turned over to police by his brother and was booked on first-degree murder charges.

Miss Fussel, daughter of a retired gas company executive living in San Juan, was here on vacation from Lake Erie College, Painesville, Ohio.

Fishing Expedition

Will Elect Officers

LISBON — The Guilford Lake Civic Association will elect officers and directors during its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the fire hall. Charles J. Gause, president, will be in charge. Joseph Yovanovic, secretary, will collect dues for 1968.

Sheriff Says Slain Man In Debt To Race Bookies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County Sheriff James J. McGettrick says he has learned that George A. Westrich Jr., found slain in his car in suburban Independence Tuesday, was heavily in debt to horse race bookies.

McGettrick said he learned the 32-year-old Macedonia man owed some $8,500 on horse race bets.

A neighbor noted that he kept "odd hours" and that "quite a strange looking crowd of men were always around.

He also had been in trouble with the law recently, was caught by police during an alleged jewelry store burglary in Akron and was under federal indictment on stolen money order charges in Las Vegas, Nev.

Monday night at 9 p.m. Westrich walked out of the house where he and his wife and three children lived and drove off in his 1967 Thunderbird without saying where he was going.

This was the last time his family saw him alive.

Tuesday morning the car was found abandoned in the driveway at the home of a retired businessman in suburban Independence. Westrich's body was between the bucket seats, his feet in the rear and his head in front. He had been shot in the back and in the back of the head.

Westrich was indicted Oct. 17 along with William M. and Mildred Rooney of Cleveland in Las Vegas on charges of transporting stolen money orders, and all three were free on bond.

Westrich and Rooney also were arrested Aug. 5 at Akron, where police said they were caught at 4:20 a.m. inside the Bancroft Jewelry Store in the Mayflower Hotel. Three men were caught in the store, allegedly with $7,000 loot in their pockets, and they were working on the safe when spotted, police said.

The third man arrested there was Salvatore R. Carcione, 21, Northfield.

Police said the shooting apparently occurred elsewhere and the car then was driven to the place where it was found. Independence is five miles northwest of Macedonia.

Westrich formerly owned a race horse but sold it after he was suspended at Thistledown Race Track in September. Track stewards said he had falsified his owner's license by not including his criminal record.

Nepal became a constitutional monarchy in 1959.

Enough Evidence Seen For Trial In Girl's Death

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—The Bayamon District Court Tuesday determined there is enough evidence to bring to trial a fisherman for the death of 18-year-old Ohio college student Susan Fussell.

Miss Fussell's charred body was found last Sept. 6 among the debris in a burned house on the Cerro Gordo beach resort near the town of Vega Baja, west of San Juan.

The next day, Esteban Cruz Rosario, 48, fisherman and also a caretaker of the beach house, was turned over to police by his brother and was booked on first-degree murder charges.

Miss Fussel, daughter of a retired gas company executive living in San Juan, was here on vacation from Lake Erie College, Painesville, Ohio.

Fishing Expedition

East Germany has an area of 41,645 square miles.

Will Elect Officers

LISBON — The Guilford Lake Civic Association will elect officers and directors during its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the fire hall. Charles J. Gause, president, will be in charge. Joseph Yovanovic, secretary, will collect dues for 1968.

More Money You Make, The More It Takes To Live

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The more money you make the more it takes to live, says a government report showing a "moderate" standard of living costs a city family of four more than $9,000.

"Psychologically, the family feels as much pressure as before because it wants more," said Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The report shows a "moderate" living standard costs 39 per cent more than in 1959 when the last such study was made. Fifteen per cent of the increase was in prices. The other 24 per cent was in real improvements in the form of better food, more autos and other family needs and desires.

Ross emphasized the study does not represent a typical American family, but provides a yardstick to measure the spending habits of other families.

The median income of the nation's 48 million families is about $7,500 a year.

The study was based on a theoretical 38-year-old man with a steady job earning $11,000 a year, his wife who doesn't work, a 13-year-old son and an 8-year-old daughter.

It took them $9,191 in an average U.S. city for a "moderate" living standard last year, and with price increases since then the figure is at least $9,420 a year now.

They spent $7,329 on food, housing, clothing, transportation, medical and personal care and other items and the rest on taxes, life insurance, gifts and contributions to social and charitable organizations and job-related expenses of the husband.

"It is not a poverty budget nor is it a luxury budget," said Ross. The bureau will later publish living cost figures for families with both higher and lower incomes.

The "moderate" family budget, Ross said, shows that "aspirations and expectations multiplied at least as rapidly" as rising income and the production capacity of the economy.

The same couple without children could have lived just as comfortably with $3,778 less income. If they had four children instead of two, they would have needed an additional $2,345 income to keep up the same level of living.

The new report reflected more home ownership than the 1959 study, more families owning automobiles and many better quality and higher priced items. It showed an increasing taste for wine and less for beer.

"It's not our idea of what a family should have, but their own aspirations and needs," Ross said.

The merchandise was from Alfred of New York, a men's clothing establishment, and Destino Jewelry.

Some Rules For Gaining

A painfully thin girl writes, "I desperately need to gain weight. But if there is no way other than to give up smoking — skip it! It's not that I haven't tried. . ."

Ida Jean Kain

In today's column a former skinny gal, a smoker, outlines her gaining routine. Although she did not quit smoking, she worked out a system that does not dull her appetite for good food. Here is her story.

"Until a few months ago I weighed a mere 85 pounds, for 5-foot-2. I am now nearing my goal of 105 rounded pounds, which is a good weight for me. Because I am a smoker and used to skip breakfast, I thought other thin girls might like to know what I did to gain.

"Rule I: No smoking before breakfast. Also, I made it a rule not to smoke for at least a full hour before lunch and before dinner. By this plan, food tastes better. I have a keener appetite for my meals.

"RULE 2: Drink a high calorie beverage at breakfast. Breakfast is not my favorite meal, and because of a lack of time in the morning, it must be a quick meal. So, in place of the usual coffee, I switched to cocomalt. It's loaded with calories and gives me more staying satisfaction. By taking something in the morning, I now have more appetite for breakfast and often eat an egg and toast, plus the milk beverage.

"Rule 3: Prepare good meals. With my new interest in food I am becoming a pretty good cook. I try to fix nourishing, well - balanced meals and add a delicious dessert at dinner. My wo pre - schoolers and my husband are of course delig t-ed.

"Rule 4: Take booster calories before retiring. I have extra calories by having a glass of hot milk and bread and butter about an hour before bedtime.

"For the first time in years my parents and my husband no longer worry about my underweight. I used to be downright skinny. I got so tired of hearing about it I decided to buckle down and eat to add curves. Perhaps my plan can help other underweights to gain needed pounds," she concluded.

All right thin girls, are you game to give her plan a try? If you smoke, make it a rule not to smoke before breakfast. Avoid smoking for at least one hour before any meal. As your appetite picks up your interest in food will pick up too. Give more attention to meal planning. Include the nutritionally important foods. Soon you will begin to look and feel like a new girl.

Our sincere thanks to this former underweight for sharing. Will she please report again?

Newell Firemen Plan To Continue Drive For Funds

Newell firemen will continue a drive Saturday, seeking funds for equipment maintenance, it was announced at a meeting Monday night at the fire station.

The drive, which has been held for several weeks in the rural area, will begin about 1 p. m. Saturday.

The drum corps committee reported the organization now is in full swing. The group is repairing equipment on hand and buying new and used equipment.

Chief Earl Flesch reported the department will have to pay about $20 a year for each man under new terms of Workmen's Compensation.

Two from the Hancock County Firefighters Association, journeyed to Charleston during the weekend and reported it will cost $5 per quarter per man for the coverage, which will protect firemen injured during fires.

The public is invited to attend a class in radiation being held by Peter Roscoe, a Wells Junior High School teacher. The course is held at the fire station each Thursday at 7 p. m.

A class is being scheduled for firemen at the Weirton Heights Department. While details are not yet firm, it will instruct firemen on the use of tanker trucks and their operation and the fighting of oil tank farm fires. The instructors will be from Pennsylvania and Indiana.

They Just Gobbled

GRAND LAKE, Colo. (AP) — Louis Heckert, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said rather hungrily the annual buffalo barbecue was a huge success. The 1,700 pounds of buffalo meat went so fast, he said, "I didn't even get to eat."

Cows fed on the kind of grass that grows in Italy do not produce much milk; Italy's goats produce an important part of the county's milk supply.

Verzella Gets Board Post

John Verzella of Industry RD 1, Ohioville Borough, was appointed a member of the Western Beaver School Board of Directors at a special meeting Monday night.

A Midland businessman, Verzella will fill the unexpired term of Charles P. Henderson, who resigned after being appointed superintendent of Midland schools. The term will expire in December 1971.

Others nominated for the post were Dwaine Cooper, who was ineligible because he had not resided in the district a year; Fred Wilton, treasurer of Industry Borough, who declined appointment, and Charles N. Brown of Meadowbrook Estates, who was nominated last night.

Verzella will be sworn in at the next regular meeting Nov. 6.

One 'No' Bark

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — Mark one "no" vote against the city's new leash law. Casting the negative ballot is a pooch whose owner dutifully tied him up in the back yard.

Police said an unleashed dog took advantage of the situation. He ran into the yard, nipped the leashed animal and escaped with ease.

Lucky At Gambling, But Unlucky In Love

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The district attorney of Mount Lebanon is investigating the case of the lady sweepstakes winner who was lucky at gambling but unlucky — almost fatally — in love.

The lady, according to court reports, is a 23-year-old housewife who found her husband and her mother having a love affair, and quit the household to work as a chambermaid. Her employer bought her a sweepstakes ticket and she won 35,000 pounds sterling.

Her mother, she claimed, then tried to poison her to get the money, and then took out a medical certificate to get the daughter sent to an insane asylum. Her husband and mother have been arrested.

In today's column a former skinny gal, a smoker, outlines her gaining routine. Although she did not quit smoking, she worked out a system that does not dull her appetite for good food. Here is her story.

"Until a few months ago I weighed a mere 85 pounds, for 5-foot-2. I am now nearing my goal of 105 rounded pounds, which is a good weight for me. Because I am a smoker and used to skip breakfast, I thought other thin girls might like to know what I did to gain.

"Rule I: No smoking before breakfast. Also, I made it a rule not to smoke for at least a full hour before lunch and before dinner. By this plan, food tastes better. I have a keener appetite for my meals.

"RULE 2: Drink a high calorie beverage at breakfast. Breakfast is not my favorite meal, and because of a lack of time in the morning, it must be a quick meal. So, in place of the usual coffee, I switched to cocomalt. It's loaded with calories and gives me more staying satisfaction. By taking something in the morning, I now have more appetite for breakfast and often eat an egg and toast, plus the milk beverage.

"Rule 3: Prepare good meals. With my new interest in food I am becoming a pretty good cook. I try to fix nourishing, well - balanced meals and add a delicious dessert at dinner. My wo pre - schoolers and my husband are of course delig t-ed.

"Rule 4: Take booster calories before retiring. I have extra calories by having a glass of hot milk and bread and butter about an hour before bedtime.

"For the first time in years my parents and my husband no longer worry about my underweight. I used to be downright skinny. I got so tired of hearing about it I decided to buckle down and eat to add curves. Perhaps my plan can help other underweights to gain needed pounds," she concluded.

All right thin girls, are you game to give her plan a try? If you smoke, make it a rule not to smoke before breakfast. Avoid smoking for at least one hour before any meal. As your appetite picks up your interest in food will pick up too. Give more attention to meal planning. Include the nutritionally important foods. Soon you will begin to look and feel like a new girl.

Our sincere thanks to this former underweight for sharing. Will she please report again?

Newell Firemen Plan To Continue Drive For Funds

Newell firemen will continue a drive Saturday, seeking funds for equipment maintenance, it was announced at a meeting Monday night at the fire station.

The drive, which has been held for several weeks in the rural area, will begin about 1 p. m. Saturday.

The drum corps committee reported the organization now is in full swing. The group is repairing equipment on hand and buying new and used equipment.

Chief Earl Flesch reported the department will have to pay about $20 a year for each man under new terms of Workmen's Compensation.

Two from the Hancock County Firefighters Association, journeyed to Charleston during the weekend and reported it will cost $5 per quarter per man for the coverage, which will protect firemen injured during fires.

The public is invited to attend a class in radiation being held by Peter Roscoe, a Wells Junior High School teacher. The course is held at the fire station each Thursday at 7 p. m.

A class is being scheduled for firemen at the Weirton Heights Department. While details are not yet firm, it will instruct firemen on the use of tanker trucks and their operation and the fighting of oil tank farm fires. The instructors will be from Pennsylvania and Indiana.

They Just Gobbled

GRAND LAKE, Colo. (AP) — Louis Heckert, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said rather hungrily the annual buffalo barbecue was a huge success. The 1,700 pounds of buffalo meat went so fast, he said, "I didn't even get to eat."

Cows fed on the kind of grass that grows in Italy do not produce much milk; Italy's goats produce an important part of the county's milk supply.

Verzella Gets Board Post

John Verzella of Industry RD 1, Ohioville Borough, was appointed a member of the Western Beaver School Board of Directors at a special meeting Monday night.

A Midland businessman, Verzella will fill the unexpired term of Charles P. Henderson, who resigned after being appointed superintendent of Midland schools. The term will expire in December 1971.

Others nominated for the post were Dwaine Cooper, who was ineligible because he had not resided in the district a year; Fred Wilton, treasurer of Industry Borough, who declined appointment, and Charles N. Brown of Meadowbrook Estates, who was nominated last night.

Verzella will be sworn in at the next regular meeting Nov. 6.

One 'No' Bark

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — Mark one "no" vote against the city's new leash law. Casting the negative ballot is a pooch whose owner dutifully tied him up in the back yard.

Police said an unleashed dog took advantage of the situation. He ran into the yard, nipped the leashed animal and escaped with ease.

Lucky At Gambling, But Unlucky In Love

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The district attorney of Mount Lebanon is investigating the case of the lady sweepstakes winner who was lucky at gambling but unlucky — almost fatally — in love.

The lady, according to court reports, is a 23-year-old housewife who found her husband and her mother having a love affair, and quit the household to work as a chambermaid. Her employer bought her a sweepstakes ticket and she won 35,000 pounds sterling.

Her mother, she claimed, then tried to poison her to get the money, and then took out a medical certificate to get the daughter sent to an insane asylum. Her husband and mother have been arrested.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 17-year-old girl who has a very nice boy friend. Ron has one fault. I don't know how else to phrase it so I'll just say he has "wandering hands."

When Ron gets out of line and I tell him to stop he gives me some very convincing arguments, such as, "There's no harm in it. It can only create a beautiful, warm sensation from within."

I guess my real problem is that I let him get away with it a couple of times and now when I say no he accuses me of being inconsistent, unfair and not caring for him any more.

How can I make him see my side of it without having to face his temperamental outbursts and the sulking that follows? Please help me.—MISHANDLED MISS.

Dear Miss: Your body belongs to YOU, Dummy. You don't owe Ron pawing privileges just because he happens to be a fast talker. He's right about those warm sensations from within. But please be aware that when those warm sensations become TOO warm, they can set fire to the best of intentions and reduce your lofty principles to ashes.

Every girl who gets into trouble is not a tramp. Some are fine young women like yourself — but they are a little stupid. Get rid of the crazy idea that you are obligated to give every eight-handed idiot reasons why he is not entitled to something that belongs ot you in the first place.

Quiet Please

Dear Ann: There has been so much dissension about this problem that both sides have agreed to let you settle it.

A and B are getting married in a few months. This is the second marriage for both. Each has children by a precious marriage. The groom's children are past their teen years. The bride's children are all under 13 years of age.

Dear Need: This should be settled by A and B, but since they can't agree and you want my opinion, here it is:

When divorced people marry, I feel it is usually awkward and sometimes ludicrous to have the children present. The civilized people I know who married a second time did not make a social event of the occasion.

Get Lost

Dear Ann: I recently dropped in to see a neighbor. I was just passing her home and decided to stop on an impulse. She was clearing the supper dishes and I didn't mind that she continued with her work, since I realized I had interrupted her.

Then the telephone rang. It was a friend who wanted to chat. The woman just sat down and continued to talk for 15 minutes. The caller had no way of knowing I was in the house. I felt hurt that my hostess made no mention of it. She let me just sit there.

Do you think this was good manners? I felt like leaving.—IOWA.

Dear Iowa: A person who drops in "on impulse" — uninvited and unexpected — is an intruder, no matter how harsh the word may seem.

If a hostess left an invited guest sitting for 15 minutes while she chatted on the phone, I'd say she was indeed guilty of bad manners. In this instance, however, perhaps the woman was trying to tell you something.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Three Lebanese mechanics have been arrested for carrying on an enterprising but illegal export business — sending stolen cars in pieces to Turkey. Police claim the three men wandered the streets of Beirut with a Turkish accomplice who would pick out a likely looking vehicle. The three would then steal it, take it apart and send the components across the Lebanese and Syrian borders into Turkey to be reassembled.

They exported 23 cars before they were caught, police said.

Lausche Attacks Anti-Viet War Demonstrations

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said Tuesday night that demonstrations against U. S. policy in Vietnam are "unjustified" and are damaging "our country and its security."

He made the statement in an interview prior to addressing the 95th annual banquet of the Ohio State Grange.

Lausche said he had joined with Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., in presenting a resolution to the Senate urging that the Vietnamese issue be sumbitted to the United Nations.

"We should demonstrate to the world we are doing all we possibly can to bring the war to an end honorably," he said.

Lausche later told some 700 Grange members that "in no branch of our economy or life has such great progress been made as in the development of farm techniques to increase the production of food."

He also hailed the U.S. farmer as not only a major producer, but as a major consumer, spending more than $30 billion a year in the purchase of goods and services.

About 300 million tons of soil were blown from the overplowed prairies of the United States by a single storm in 1934.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Statisticians Are So Rational

There's a reason why statisticians always appear so calm and rational when they explain their "statistical facts of life" on whatever subject they have under study. They never have to prove they are right, but when they're challenged on a point, you the challenger are asked to prove they are wrong.

Hal Humphrey

This occurred to me again while listening to A. C. Nielsen Jr. as he addressed the Hollywood Radio and Television Society last week. Yes, he is the president of the A. C. Nielsen Co., which is the prime supplier of the ratings which rule what we watch on TV.

-:-

"YOU HAVE MY word for it," said Nielsen at one point, "and the word of dozens of qualified, independent experts in research: the Nielsen TV households are by no means a biased, hodgepodge assembly chosen by hit-or-miss methods. . .they're about as typically American as one can get.

"Some may not like their verdict every time, but I rather doubt that you would choose the chaos of no verdict at all."

So we have his word for it, but what if logic and our experience tell us that the Nielsen Audimetered sample of 1,200 homes (from which come his national ratings) can't be "average, random" Americans once they know their TV tastes are being tested over periods as long as five years?

You can't prove this, of course, but neither can Nielsen disprove it. Yet you are the one asked to prove it.

AFTER HIS SPEECH, I asked Nielsen if his organization ever had attempted to find out what effect the publishing of the Nielsen Top 10 programs had on the people in those 1,200 households with the Audimeters on their TV sets.

He said he did not like the Top 10 becoming public information, but no, they'd never checked its effect on the sample households.

"There's no point in it," he replied, "because we can't stop the information from becoming public."

To them, and lots of others in the industry, this is almost as chaotic as "no verdict at all."

Why Nielsen seemed to feel that no verdict at all was the only alternative, I can't fathom. He's always admitted the ratings could be improved by taking a larger sample and-or rotating the households more often.

NATURALLY this would cost the clients more money. The networks now each pay Nielsen around a quarter of a million dollars for the ratings. Maybe he knows they aren't going to pay any more.

The margin of error in a Nielsen rating now, he explained this way: "Assuming a true rating of 20, the figure we report will be within 1.3 rating points two out of three times. That is, it will be between 18.7 and 21.7."

What he did not bother to add to this is the fact that as many as 15 or 20 different shows can fall somewhere between the 18.7 and 21.3 and that networks may decide to cancel or continue a series based on which of those two figures is given it as a rating.

HIS ANSWER to this is automatic and well known to the industry. We just furnish the data and do not dictate how it is to be used, Nielsen will say.

To the producer of a TV series, it must seem like handing a gun to the network program director and then casually explaining it can kill somebody if not used correctly.

Roy Huggins, executive producer of the series "Run for Your Life," told Nielsen in a conversation after his speech that he (Huggins) felt a list of Top 10 network shows was unfair to shows like "Run for Your Life" which come on at 10 o'clock in the East and West when perhaps 20 per cent of the viewers have gone to bed, yet are penalized in rating points because of this.

NIELSEN allowed that perhaps Huggins had a point, and he made a note to check into it when he got back to headquarters in Chicago.

As I said here at the beginning, the statistician remains calm and rational because he's in that happy position of always being right unless you or I can prove him wrong.

Romney Claims LBJ Has Lost His Credibility

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney says President Johnson's administration "has cried wolf so often that it has lost credibility."

Romney told a gathering of some 750 Republicans at a GOP fund-raising dinner Tuesday night, "There's no doubt the biggest bulge in the whole credibility gap comes over Vietnam."

Starting an eight-day, ten-state speaking tour, the Republican governor, an undeclared candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, talked again about "brainwashcng."

"Apparently there were a lot of brainwashed American voters in 1964," said Romney who stated recently he was brainwashed into going along with President Johnson's Vietnam policy.

Romney said he believed what he was told about Vietnam in 1964 and he continued to believe what he was told on his visit to Vietnam a year later.

"I am like the rest of the American public," Romney said. "I want to believe what our government leaders tell us. But today if any major public figure quoted Johnson's 1964 comments on Vietnam he would be regarded as the doviest of the doves."

Concerned, Trying To Learn More

U.S. Officials Divided In Views On Marijuana

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top federal officials are widely divided in their views on marijuana. But they're concerned and trying to learn more about it.

The division was underscored following the statement last week by Food and Drug Commissioner Dr. James L. Goddard that he believes marijuana is less dangerous than alcohol

Goddard recommended relaxing severe laws against marijuana to eliminate penalties against possession. He said penalties should be retained for distribution or sale.

Taking a sharply different position, U.S. Narcotics Commissioner Henry L. Giaordano testified before Congress earlier this year that marijuana "is not, as some people say, less (dangerous) than alcohol or less than smoking tobacco. Some way we have got to get this across to the public."

And Dr. Philip R. Lee, assistant secretary for scientific affairs for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, told The Associated Press, "We just don't have enough information" to know the dangers of maijuana.

But federal officials agree the growing use of marijuana is of serious concern.

To fill the gap in scientific data on the drug, the government has put high priority on new research by the National Institute of Mental Health.

The Institute's new Center for Studies of Narcotic and Drug Abuse hopes to have solid evidence in about two years.

Acting center director Dr. Roger Meyer acknowledged in an interview that the center is under heavy pressure—both public and governmental—to get the answer fast. And he said the question policymakers want to answer is whether marijuana should be legalized.

For now, says Lee, the administration's policy is that there should be no change in the law, which equates marijuana with the extremely dangerous opiate heroin and with other strong narcotics.

The Federal Narcotics Act provides for a mandatory prison term of 2 to 10 years for first offenses on possession of marijuana, though discretionary sentences are allowed for offenders up to age 26.

In Colorado, the death penalty is provided for second convictions involving persons under 25 with narcotics—including marijuana.

What are the dangers of marijuana?

Federal officials agreed in a series of interviews that it's easier to say what the dangers are not.

The President's Crime Commission said earlier this year marijuana isn't habit forming physically, although users may become psychologically dependent on it; the user doesn't feel the need with time to increase the dosage as do opiate users; there is no conclusive evidence marijuana users graduate to more powerful drugs or that it causes crime; there are no obvious lasting physical effects and have been no known deaths.

But the commission found it to be by no means harmless, saying "it can cause anxiety, confusion or disorientation . . . (and) induce temporary psychotic episodes in predisposed people."

Akron Man, 34, Awaits Sentence In Murder Case

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 34-year-old Akron man is awaiting sentence on a first-degree murder conviction in the fatal shooting of Arthur Snell, chief assistant Summit County prosecutor, last July 10.

A panel of three common pleas judges convicted Frederick T. Orr Jr. Tuesday but recommended mercy, saving him from the death penalty.

Judges Clande V. D. Emmons, L. A. Lombardi and Evan J. Reed delayed sentence pending a motion for a new trial. They deliberated nearly an hour on the verdict and the degree of murder. Orr had pleaded guilty to a general charge of homicide.

Police said Snell was shot four times following an argument between Snell and Orr's cousin, Marvin Foster, at a bar. Orr claimed he shot Snell in trying to protect his cousin. Police said Foster, 24, had tried to stab Snell during the argument.

Parks was charged with refusing induction, a charge punishable by a jail sentence of up to five years and a fine of up to $10,000.

Suit By Franko Cites Postmaster And Post Office

CLEVELAND (AP)— Frank R. Franko, the loser in the Democratic mayoral primary at Youngstown last spring, charges in a suit filed in U.S. District Court here that the postal service failed to make proper delivery of campaign literature he mailed last April.

Franko, who lost to incumbent Anthony B. Flask, named as defendants Youngstown Postmaster Chester W. Bailey and the U.S. Postal Department. He asked $25,000 in compensatory damages and $25,000 in punitive damages in the suit filed Tuesday.

Franko, a former one-term mayor of Youngstown, charged the post office "wrongfully delayed delivery" of 46,835 pieces of campaign literature for which he paid postage of $1,346.51 on April 19. He said his mail was held up because a magazine distribution was given priority.

He also charged that delays again were encountered in a 32,000-letter first class mailing he made April 20-30.

Lausche Attacks Anti-Viet War Demonstrations

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said Tuesday night that demonstrations against U. S. policy in Vietnam are "unjustified" and are damaging "our country and its security."

He made the statement in an interview prior to addressing the 95th annual banquet of the Ohio State Grange.

Lausche said he had joined with Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., in presenting a resolution to the Senate urging that the Vietnamese issue be sumbitted to the United Nations.

"We should demonstrate to the world we are doing all we possibly can to bring the war to an end honorably," he said.

Lausche later told some 700 Grange members that "in no branch of our economy or life has such great progress been made as in the development of farm techniques to increase the production of food."

He also hailed the U.S. farmer as not only a major producer, but as a major consumer, spending more than $30 billion a year in the purchase of goods and services.

About 300 million tons of soil were blown from the overplowed prairies of the United States by a single storm in 1934.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Statisticians Are So Rational

There's a reason why statisticians always appear so calm and rational when they explain their "statistical facts of life" on whatever subject they have under study. They never have to prove they are right, but when they're challenged on a point, you the challenger are asked to prove they are wrong.

Hal Humphrey

This occurred to me again while listening to A. C. Nielsen Jr. as he addressed the Hollywood Radio and Television Society last week. Yes, he is the president of the A. C. Nielsen Co., which is the prime supplier of the ratings which rule what we watch on TV.

-:-

"YOU HAVE MY word for it," said Nielsen at one point, "and the word of dozens of qualified, independent experts in research: the Nielsen TV households are by no means a biased, hodgepodge assembly chosen by hit-or-miss methods. . .they're about as typically American as one can get.

"Some may not like their verdict every time, but I rather doubt that you would choose the chaos of no verdict at all."

So we have his word for it, but what if logic and our experience tell us that the Nielsen Audimetered sample of 1,200 homes (from which come his national ratings) can't be "average, random" Americans once they know their TV tastes are being tested over periods as long as five years?

You can't prove this, of course, but neither can Nielsen disprove it. Yet you are the one asked to prove it.

AFTER HIS SPEECH, I asked Nielsen if his organization ever had attempted to find out what effect the publishing of the Nielsen Top 10 programs had on the people in those 1,200 households with the Audimeters on their TV sets.

He said he did not like the Top 10 becoming public information, but no, they'd never checked its effect on the sample households.

"There's no point in it," he replied, "because we can't stop the information from becoming public."

To them, and lots of others in the industry, this is almost as chaotic as "no verdict at all."

Why Nielsen seemed to feel that no verdict at all was the only alternative, I can't fathom. He's always admitted the ratings could be improved by taking a larger sample and-or rotating the households more often.

NATURALLY this would cost the clients more money. The networks now each pay Nielsen around a quarter of a million dollars for the ratings. Maybe he knows they aren't going to pay any more.

The margin of error in a Nielsen rating now, he explained this way: "Assuming a true rating of 20, the figure we report will be within 1.3 rating points two out of three times. That is, it will be between 18.7 and 21.7."

What he did not bother to add to this is the fact that as many as 15 or 20 different shows can fall somewhere between the 18.7 and 21.3 and that networks may decide to cancel or continue a series based on which of those two figures is given it as a rating.

HIS ANSWER to this is automatic and well known to the industry. We just furnish the data and do not dictate how it is to be used, Nielsen will say.

To the producer of a TV series, it must seem like handing a gun to the network program director and then casually explaining it can kill somebody if not used correctly.

Roy Huggins, executive producer of the series "Run for Your Life," told Nielsen in a conversation after his speech that he (Huggins) felt a list of Top 10 network shows was unfair to shows like "Run for Your Life" which come on at 10 o'clock in the East and West when perhaps 20 per cent of the viewers have gone to bed, yet are penalized in rating points because of this.

NIELSEN allowed that perhaps Huggins had a point, and he made a note to check into it when he got back to headquarters in Chicago.

As I said here at the beginning, the statistician remains calm and rational because he's in that happy position of always being right unless you or I can prove him wrong.

Romney Claims LBJ Has Lost His Credibility

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney says President Johnson's administration "has cried wolf so often that it has lost credibility."

Romney told a gathering of some 750 Republicans at a GOP fund-raising dinner Tuesday night, "There's no doubt the biggest bulge in the whole credibility gap comes over Vietnam."

Starting an eight-day, ten-state speaking tour, the Republican governor, an undeclared candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, talked again about "brainwashcng."

"Apparently there were a lot of brainwashed American voters in 1964," said Romney who stated recently he was brainwashed into going along with President Johnson's Vietnam policy.

Romney said he believed what he was told about Vietnam in 1964 and he continued to believe what he was told on his visit to Vietnam a year later.

"I am like the rest of the American public," Romney said. "I want to believe what our government leaders tell us. But today if any major public figure quoted Johnson's 1964 comments on Vietnam he would be regarded as the doviest of the doves."

Suit By Franko Cites Postmaster And Post Office

CLEVELAND (AP)— Frank R. Franko, the loser in the Democratic mayoral primary at Youngstown last spring, charges in a suit filed in U.S. District Court here that the postal service failed to make proper delivery of campaign literature he mailed last April.

Franko, who lost to incumbent Anthony B. Flask, named as defendants Youngstown Postmaster Chester W. Bailey and the U.S. Postal Department. He asked $25,000 in compensatory damages and $25,000 in punitive damages in the suit filed Tuesday.

Franko, a former one-term mayor of Youngstown, charged the post office "wrongfully delayed delivery" of 46,835 pieces of campaign literature for which he paid postage of $1,346.51 on April 19. He said his mail was held up because a magazine distribution was given priority.

He also charged that delays again were encountered in a 32,000-letter first class mailing he made April 20-30.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Lillie Mae Smith, who left us 10 years ago today. We did not know the poin you had or hear your final sigh. We only know you passed away without a last goodby. Gone gone forever. How we miss your smiling face, But you left us to remember, none on earth could take your place. A happy home we once enjoyed, how sweet the memory still, But death has left loneliness, the world can never fill. Sadly missed by Sons and Daughters.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Lillie Mae Smith, who left us 10 years ago today. We did not know the poin you had or hear your final sigh. We only know you passed away without a last goodby. Gone gone forever. How we miss your smiling face, But you left us to remember, none on earth could take your place. A happy home we once enjoyed, how sweet the memory still, But death has left loneliness, the world can never fill. Sadly missed by Sons and Daughters.

Mrs. Ruby Pasco

Junior Editors Quiz on NITROGEN

QUESTION: How do we get sufficient nitrogen?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Nitrogen, because it is part of the living protoplasm in our bodies, is vital to us all. We obtain this necessary element by eating plants and animals which have also eaten plants. Animals and plants take in nitrogen as part of the nitrogen cycle (see picture). The cycle starts as nitrogen in the air (1) and is carried into the earth (2) Animals (3) get nitrogen by eating plants; animal and plant wastes (4) return to the earth and decay (5). This produces ammonia (6). Ammonium compounds are used by certain bacteria in the soil, producing nitrites. Other bacteria add oxygen, to form nitrates, a usable form of nitrogen which can be absorbed by plants (7). As animals eat the plants, the cycle continues. Additional nitrogen is also carried directly into the soil (9), restored to the air by certain bacteria (8) and ultimately plowed into the soil by farmers. Some plants, such as wheat and corn, take much nitrogen from the soil; others, like legumes, tend to restore it. For this reason, legume crops are often planted and then plowed under.

Longsworth Hits Welfare As Practiced At Present

A firm belief that the United States has a major welfare problem and that President Johnson and the federal government are only aggravating matters by encouraging more such programs was expressed by State Rep. Sen. John Longsworth during the Rotary Club Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

The senator said that with the present program "I could be receiving $45 a week in welfare payments and if I tried to get a job paying $25 a week, $25 would immediately be cut from my welfare payments. So why bother working?"

Longsworth said that the incentive to work is missing.

His solution to the problem would be to find part-time work for the affected people and gradually reduce the welfare payments "until they once again are proud to work."

He said another problem lies in the fact that the government encourages births by providing more money for more children. He said many actually are making $5 to $6 an hour by increasing their family size.

The senator commented on the fact that 46 per cent of the states' income in taxes is returned to the local governments for their control.

He charged that it has been White House policy the past few years to try to run the whole country from Washington. "This cannot be done," he cautioned.

Frank C. Dawson presided.

Week's Hearings On Trade Center To Be Concluded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes' advisory committee is about ready to wind up this week's hearings on a proposed site for an international trade center, but other cities will make their bids later.

So far, Akron, Lorain, Columbus and Cincinnati have made presentations of site possibilities with representatives from the Cleveland area prepared to submit their plans today.

The international trade mart was proposed by Rhodes. It would be a statewide coordinating center for import-export activities.

The hearings will resume next Nov. 18 and will be concluded about three days later.

5,400 At 2 Ford Plants Set Pact Vote

CINCINNATI (AP)— Around 5,400 employes of two local Ford Motor Co. plants will decide today whether to accept the United Auto Workers' new three-year contract with Ford.

But officials said even if men at the plants in suburban Sharonville and Fairfax ratify the contract, work might not be resumed there until next week.

They said local issues including overtime, promotion, layoff and transfer policies at the two plants and will have to be solved before the men return to work.
